

WE NOMINATE

William Francis Powers, a short-term resident of the Princeton Area and a brilliant engineer, whose achievements as Vice-President for Engineering for the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts have been very much in the news as the nation and the world of arts and music have been engrossed with the opening of the new $43.7 million dollar Metropolitan Opera House. A fortnight hence, with four of Lincoln Center's five buildings now complete and the fifth "well on the way," the 55-year old Powers will be moving his base of operations from Princeton and Manhattan to Washington, D. C., where he will be assuming massive new responsibilities as Executive Director of Engineering for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Playing an unprecedented role in the construction of multi-million dollar facilities strengthening the American "educational and artistic community," Powers, a career engineer with the U.S. Army before joining Lincoln Center, has been hailed by a New York associate as one of those "invaluable invisible presences." Over the past six years Powers "has functioned as sort of that 'nine-tenths of the iceberg' which is underwater — i.e., with no fanfare, recognition, or glory, but as vital to the construction of Lincoln Center as those upon whom the spotlight is normally focussed, the administrators and philanthropists responsible for the development of a $160-million undertaking."

It was six years ago this fall that the Massachusetts-born Powers, a member of the Class of 1932 at the U.S. Military Academy and the recipient of the degree of Master of Science in Civil Engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, succeeded a fellow Princetonian, General Otto L. Nelson, Jr., as Executive Director for the immense and complicated task of building Lincoln Center. For the preceding 18 months he had been closely associated with Nelson, who from the beginning had guided the Center through the complex dealings with the City and Federal authorities involved in the acquisition of the site and had directed the relocation of 1,528 families.

To the Lincoln Center assignment Powers brought more than a quarter-century of experience with the Army engineers in the course of which he directed both military and civil works construction programs totaling well over $1-billion. In the late 1950's as District Engineer for the Philadelphia District he had been involved in such projects as the first Bomarc Guided Missile Installation at the McGuire Air Force Base, the dredging of the Delaware River channel between Philadelphia and Trenton, the maintenance and improvement of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and a comprehensive survey of the water resources of the Delaware River Basin.

Powers, the father of two sons, one a Field Artillery captain in Vietnam with the crack 25th Infantry Division and the younger a senior at Duquesne University, served in key posts throughout World War II. In 1942, for instance, he was placed in charge of the planning, site selection and design of the camps, depots and hospitals for all of the American Forces which were "to stage" through the British Isles. A participant in the North African landings, he was given the mission of constructing and operating the assembly areas for the embarkation of troops and supplies for both the Sicilian and Salerno invasions.

For his contributions to the creation of a unique cultural complex reaching out each year to hundreds of thousands of Americans; for accepting a challenge which could prove to be infinitely more difficult than the one he is now completing with distinction; he is our nominee as

AMBASSADOR VAN
"We Made a Contribution."
A junior high school gym teacher from Princeton served as a United States ambassador of good will this summer in the Near East.

Norman Van Arsdale, Valley Road physical education instructor, is also a member of the executive committee of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials (10,000 members).

It was natural, therefore, that Mr. Van — some people don't even know the "Arabian" exists — should be invited by the State Department to serve as referee when the University of Kentucky basketball team made a State Department-sponsored tour of the Near and Middle East.

When they invited me, I said "sure!" Mr. Van grinned.

In the course of the 36-day junket, Mr. Van and his 19 fellow referees and the Kentucky team participated in 15 scrimmages, 19 regular games and innumerable basketball clinics.

"These clinics began in Greece," Mr. Van says. "The reason for our trip was the first International University basketball championships in Israel, with the University of Kentucky taking part."

But to make that long trip worthwhile, the State Department had us go to other places, too. In Greece, we gave demonstration games, did some coaching, showed slides and talked basketball with teachers and players. We were there for ten days, working with the Greek National Basketball team. My Greek isn't so good," he grinned again, "but there were interpreters everywhere, and a lot of the people knew English."

Now We're Friends. The international tournament, in Israel, had a line-up of teams right out of an international relations textbook. There were Greeks playing Turks, in defiance of age-old enmity, there were Poles playing Italians and above all, there were Germans playing Jews.

"The University of Heidelberg was the first German team to play in Israel, and they were lined up against the University of Tel Aviv," Mr. Van recalls. "I was the referee for that game."

The games took place in a 3,000-seat stadium, every seat filled for every game.

All during that Heidelberg tour, the games took place in a 3,000-seat stadium, every seat filled for every game.

A MAN WITH A BASKETBALL: Norman Van Arsdale, known to hundreds of Princeton boys and girls who have attended Valley Road School, extended his sphere of influence this summer by making a basketball tour of the Near and Middle East. (Staff Photo)

The current issue of TOWN TOPICS, running to 72 pages, is the largest it has ever published. It includes a special 16-page supplement prepared by the Board of Freeholders to report to the people on the operation of their county governing body.

on the court, but still, there it was."

As the game progressed, there were a couple of tense moments of strain. The referee from Princeton skillfully calmed both sides and after the game was over (Tel Aviv won), Mr. Van was invited by the Germans to a reception. He was the only non-German invited.

It made me feel pretty good," he says.

Sign My Program? "The crowds that swarmed around us — you wouldn't believe it! — Mr. Van shakes his head, still in wonder. "They seemed to just want to touch us. The Kentucky boys were wonderful — they gave autographs and smiled and didn't even mind when the crowds almost kept us from getting to our bus."

Basketball fans in Israel came in all ages, the referees and the team discovered. Men and boys. Old women and young women. Children and matrons.

"We toured Israel after the games: we were at the Sea of Galilee only half a mile from the spot where Israel knucked out two MIGs two days after we were there — you never know, in that part of the world."

Iran was the next stop, and the Iranian Basketball Federation the next object of clinics, coaching, demonstration and enthusiasm for American basketball.

In Persia, a Prince Basketball, to ancient Persia? "It does seem odd," Mr. Van admits, "and you're not bad either. But it's even more peculiar to see veiled Modern women at a basketball game!"

While they were in Iran, the referees and the team were in-

Power. Play. You know basketball and sports in general are quite different in other countries from what they are here. Mr. Van explains, "In other countries, it's power politics. You know, the United States sent a low-grade basketball team down to South America not long ago, and they got beaten by Russia and Brazil. Well, people still remembered that and they'd say to me, 'Don't let your country do a thing like that again.' I tried to explain that in the U. S., the game is the thing, the game is what's important. But they shook their heads." Boys on their basketball teams are older than ours. They're out of college. The government finds jobs for the road players which can leave to go on tours with the team — they're really being paid to be athletes."

I really feel we made a contribution toward helping people get along better. Mr. Van is recalling, "The Hefbergel Ave game and the friendly hands and voices in Israel and the players, so eager to learn, in Greece and in Iran. Will he go back? He has been invited to officiate at the Maccabiah games in Israel in '68, and there are some clinics in Turkey."

At least, they've asked me! the ambassador smiles.

SEVEN CARS DAMAGED

In Two Township Accidents
Seven cars were damaged Wednesday morning in two separate accidents in the township.

At two minutes before nine, four cars were involved in a collision on Route 206 and Hillside near Mary Watts store. Police, still in the process of conducting their investigation, were able to report there were no serious injuries.

Earlier, at 8:08, three cars were involved in a crash at the intersection of Valley and Jefferson Roads. Damage to all cars was reported to be slight.

HOLD KEYSTONE COMEDY

On Fackler Road, Thins got a little wild on Saturday afternoon out on Fackler Road. The cast included a runaway mare, her frantic owner, Dr. John Diamkes, a batch of helpful neighbors on the phone in cars and one on a motorcycle racing across the fields.

The action on the byways shifted to Province Line Road where Harry Pietras and Miss Bernadette Olander, both 20 at Indiana Avenue, Trenton, saw the mare. Prisoner, cantering towards them heading towards the Ely's Farm.

In fine horse style, Larry borrowed a rope from a resident and while Bernadette brought their car alongside, lassoed the mare, mounted her and was riding alone when Mrs. Diamkes found them, roaring up in her car with her poster.

About the time the horse was found, Dr. Diamkes was declared lost and the posse started out again.

In time, the excitement subsided into a cocktail party with the Diamkes begging off in fatigue.

Mack Bennett could have directed every moment, only he would have called in the Keystone Kops.

COUNCIL DATE CHANGED
Wednesday, This Month. Borough Council's September meeting date conflicted with the Tuesday primary elections so councilmen decided last month to shift the meeting night. Date: this Wednesday, September 14, instead of Tuesday, September 13.

Both of the Borough's abandoned schools found a place on Council's agenda. The governing body must act on the Borough Board's referral of its use-variance grant to Simon Fried, 34 Howe Circle, who received Zoning Board permission last month to make a nursing home out of the old Quarry School.

No serious objections have been raised to the nursing home. Mayor Henry S. Patterson repeated this week his preference for low-density housing on the site rather than a nursing home, but he said that Council would probably give the necessary approval to Mr. Fried.

Council is the final resting place for another request involving former Borough Schools: Princeton University's plan for making a parking yard out of the playground at Nassau Street School. The referral comes from Planning and Zoning Board. They have told the University that it may not have covenants on Nassau Street, only on William Street.

The liquor license of the Ivy Inn, 254 Nassau, is about to change ownership and Council must approve. Peter Sannino, owner of the Inn, is selling his license to L.B.N., Inc., whose principal is Richard McCuskey, 17 Carnegie Drive.

ZONING CHANGE MAYBE

For Dentists, Doctors. "Some sentiment" exists on the part of the Township Planning Board for providing an area where professional men may build home-office structures. The Planning Board decided, in executive session Monday night, to write Township Committee to this effect. Two dentists, Dr. Stephen Bender and Dr. Jack Roemer, would like to build a home-office in the North Harrison-Franklin Avenue section of the Township, but Township Committee generally and Township attorney Gordon D. Griffin specifically, are disturbed by what they regard as a nibbling away of the zoning ordinance in allowing these home-office buildings in a residential zone.

The Board thinks there is a definite need for professional buildings, and suggests that rezoning of part of the area or other areas might be considered.

However, in its letter to Committee, the Board says that in view of the shortness of time, its members can't come up with specific recommendations now.

SCHOOL CLOSING TOPIC

Of West Windsor Meeting. The closing of the Penna Neck School for educational purposes will be considered at a meeting Monday night of the West Windsor Township Board of Education. Residents of the municipality are invited to express their opinions at the session, which will begin at 8 in the library of the Maurice Hawk School.

The board has announced that the earliest date for the closing will be June 30 next year. Next September, classes currently housed at the Penna Neck School will be transferred to the Maurice Hawk School, when 11 new classrooms and three kindergarten rooms will be ready for occupancy.

HOME IS RANSACKED

On Edgerstone Road. The vacant home of Anley J. Coole, 153 Edgerstone Road, was entered some time this month by an intruder who ransacked it. The entry was discovered Monday by a neighbor, Mrs. William H. Sayen, 107 Edgerstone, who was returning a lawn chair and noticed a light burning in the house. She called police.

Township Detective Fred Porter said police believe the burglar was looking for cash and jewelry. Clothes in a master bedroom had been thrown on the floor. Pieces of jewelry were also found scattered about.

All the bedrooms were searched. A filing cabinet in a bedroom adjacent to the kitchen was also ransacked. Detective Porter said that entry was gained by forcing the latch plate of a French Door leading to a front room. He added that police will be unable to determine what was stolen until an inventory is taken by the owners.

Japanese Andromeda, pulled floating plant, measuring 2.4 feet tall, was reported stolen during the weekend from the front porch of her apartment by Anna Conte, 339 Witherspoon Street. It was described as having green, glossy leaves with clusters of whitish flowers.

Mr. T. P. Hunter, 280 Edgerstown, called police Thursday to report that vandals had smashed his aluminum mail box from its post, leaving all but the hinges broken or bent. In addition, police reported that objectionable words were painted in soap on the garage door windows and on the driveway.

CAR IN TOTAL LOSS

Bright Lights Blamed, Ignaz Karacsony, 42, 32 Snowden Lane, escaped injury Saturday night when his car left South Harrison Street in front of the house at 255.

Mr. Karacsony told police he was driving at 30-35 when he was blinded by the light of an approaching car, which also was heading toward his lane. To avoid an accident, he said he veered to the right.

His car jumped the curb and glanced off telephone poles, causing it to veer across Harrison and jump the opposite curb. It came to rest after striking a tree on top of an embankment. Police judged his car a total loss. There were no charges, pending the completion of the investigation by P.I. Frank Bencinfuso.

Earl M. Wert Jr., 42, Kendall Park received a bruised knee Thursday afternoon when his car was struck by another in the intersection of Jefferson Road and Franklin Avenue.

Earl W. Anderson, 46, Scituate, was charged with failing to yield at a stop sign and with having no license in his possession. He told police he was looking at Princeton High School moments before the collision.

The impact spun the Wert car around and it came to rest 60 feet away. Both cars had to be towed away.

At one minute past midnight Friday, Dale Cavin, 45, Opusson Road, Skillman, struck a parked car in front of 48 Linden Lane, belonging to Georgia H. York, 241 Mt. Lucas Road. Police said that Mr. Cavin had reached over to replace a cigarette lighter and apparently pulled his wheel to the right in the process.

Mr. Cavin was treated at Princeton Hospital where five sutures were needed to close a laceration of his lip. Police made no charges.

YOUTH FINED $300

Driving on Revoked Lic. Ernest E. Pignone, III, 18 Cherry Hill Road, was fined a mandatory $300 and $5 court costs Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for driving while on a revoked lic.

Stephen L. Bryant, 17, 20 Galbreath Drive, pleaded guilty to three charges. He was fined $30 for careless driving, $15 for bucking on a highway, and $10 for no license in possession. In addition, his license was revoked for six months. Police testified that young Bryant backed into a patrol

Churchill, 22, 232 Snowden Lane, $15 to 232 Snowden Lane. $15 to 232 Snowden Lane. $15 to 232 Snowden Lane.

Careless driving offenses resulted in fines of $20 for William D. Berger, 23, 150 Valley Road, and $15 for Elias Baker, 21, 142 Mercer Street. For speeding, Charles L. Jaffin, 38, 522 Rosedale Road, paid $25; Joseph P. Moore, 24, 161 John Street, $25; and Harry Stokes, 18, 157 Run Road, $15.

Boley J. Ross, 72, of Allentown paid $15 for a stop sign violation and must undergo a re-examination by the Motor Vehicle Department. A similar offense cost Mrs. Mary M. Gibbs, 55, 40 Mason Drive $12.

In criminal court, George W. Keiser, 19, 244 Edgerstown, pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of alcohol. He was fined $25.

Victor Mailey, 219-B Marshall Street, violated a Bor-

News Of The THEATRES

THE SHOW WILL GO ON Great Road Players. "We believe the people of Princeton would like to see a group like this, producing summer theater right in town, and we hope we can swing it next summer."
 Stuart Duncan, a trustee of the ill-starred Great Road Players, said last week that the Players, Incorporated, will remain incorporated and that he and his fellow corporate trustees will go ahead on their own in '67.

The Great Road Players had hoped to run a five-week session of theatre in Princeton this summer but found themselves benched in and finally eliminated together by the zoning plays in the theatre at Princeton Day Schools.

In the course of their stay in Princeton they ran up some bills—$245 worth, according to Mr. Duncan—and the trustees are now engaged in paying off that money.

"We have a moral obligation to do this," Mr. Duncan explained. "Already we have collected about $500, and we expect to wipe the indebtedness out by the end of the year."

Benefit performances will probably be scheduled for this fall as a money-raising device.
 Mr. Duncan said. Details will be announced later.

For next summer, the Players' small group of undergraduates from a variety of colleges, in the style of the old University Players.

"We're thinking in terms of an open-air theatre," Mr.
 Duncan continued. "We would like a spot closer to town than the Great Road, a place half a mile or so from Princeton's restaurants. The merchants around town have expressed an interest in our plans—they're tired of seeing all the summer business go to New Hope and Lambertville, and we think they'd be eager to give us some backing."

Mr. Duncan's fellow trustees are Fred M. Blalcher, A. Moore
 Wade, Mrs. Herbert Mc-Ananey, M. E. Kinan and Arthur Litwog.

CAN YOU ACT?
 New Troupe Can. "Strong voice projection, striking physical presence on the stage, the repertory flexibility to rehearse several plays at one time without losing concentration on any one of them, a good 'company' personality able to work in the ensemble with the community without being a loner."

A LOOK TOWARD 1967: Stuart Duncan has outlined plans for a community-backed outdoor theatre next year.

Sounds preposterous, but apparently it isn't. Arthur Lin-gow (the quotation is his) has applied these criteria to the selection of a repertory company for this fall's drama series at McCarter Theatre and has come up with 21 actors who can play the part.

Actors for the current session must be able to handle the classical Greek theatre.
 Shakespeare, a contemporary drama and a low comedy of the 1930's.

The plays to be given this season are Aeschylus' "Agamem-non" in a translation by Robert Fagles of the Princeton University faculty; Shake-

IT'S NEW To Us

A PERCH FOR THE BIRDS
Another for the Mail. A light, fern, swinging bird feeder to hang in your garden arrives at the Princeton Gift Shop, Palmer Square, early enough for early birds to become accustomed to it before you begin to stock it with suet and birdseed.

It's an enchanting hanging feeder made from light green fibreglass. Chickadees, painted with loving attention to feather detail, decorate one side of the feeder and bright cardinals the other.

Matching, in a way, is the rural mailbox. It's the classic mailbox size and shape, made from white fibreglass and decorated either with the chickadee-cardinal design or with game birds.

Then there's a nest of three wrought-iron tables in verdigris (rust-proof) with simple Grecian legs and bird tops that match the mailbox and the bird-feeder. And... a standing ice-bucket (18 inches tall) with walnut disc top, also in white with game birds. And then... this is like the house that Jack built! The Gift Shop has trays and mats, either in stiff white fibreglass or flexible foam-backed fibreglass, again with cardinals, chickadees or the flight of game birds. Now

Water for Sale

Pure spring water, bearing the imprimatur of the New Jersey State Department of Health, is now available at Claridge Wine and Liqueur in the Princeton Shopping Center.

It comes in an unbreakable gallon jug and costs 60 cents. No need to return the jug—just toss it out or use it as a vase for marigolds. The water comes from springs in Morris County and is naturally aerated and pure as all get out. Try it for super coffee. It's even more terrific with tea, and as for ice-cubes. . . .

don't say it's not a complete assembly!

Is your chess game worth $200? Princeton Gift Shop is betting that it is, by importing from Spain a magnificent chess set in hand-carved bronze with a $200 price tag. Did you know they could carve bronze by hand? Neither did we.

The figures are Oriental, in spite of the Spanish origin, and they have been plated with silver or gold, to distinguish one side from the other. Each man is about four inches high and heavy as—hand-carved bronze. The board is extra, by the way. Maybe you could make your own cut of cardboard.

Owls are in everywhere these days, but especially in Princeton and in Princeton, especially in the Princeton Gift Shop. Ceramic owls, porcelain owls, silver owls. . . . The silver one we like stands three inches high and is accurate down to the last hoot. He has a daddy which stands five inches across, made in a circular form with bird designs painted on the back. Colors are soft greys, terra-cottas and beiges of black. Most enduring.

Jewelry is always a food specialty of this shop as you know. For elegance, the shop is showing pale "snow-on-the-mountain" jade earrings in a single oval drop. For swing, the shop has op art earrings made in Berkeley, California, by a student there. You know how it is in Berkeley. . . .

One pair reads a cube of black and white dropping four inches from your ear on a slender chain. Another suspends a blue and yellow ball only a breath away from your shoulder. The earrings are made of balsa wood (light, light, light) and they come in pierced or screw styles. $6.

WHO ARE YOU?

Ballet Society Explains. Celebrating this year its 12th birthday, the Princeton Ballet Society issued this week a self-portrait and a description of its many functions in the theatre world of Princeton.

The Society was established as a non-profit educational organization in 1954 by Audrey Eisey after a two-year period in which she and presented full-scale ballet performances for the Princeton Community Players.

The Society maintains a ballet school on Lower Alexander Street in studios that were once iron-fund lockers and were subsequently the home of Princeton Community Players. A faculty of six instructors more than 350 students in ballet, modern jazz, folk dance and offers ballet exercises for women and young men.

In addition, the Princeton Ballet Society co-sponsors, with McCarter, a series of ballet concerts (see story elsewhere in "Theatre").

In 1964, the Society joined with hymen and teachers in central New Jersey to form the Princeton Regional Ballet, auditioning dancers each year before a panel of judges.

Dancers selected for the Regional group continue to study at their home studios, but attend company classes and rehearsals once a week at the Ballet Society Studio.

The Princeton Regional Ballet, again with McCarter, presents Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" each Christmas in addition to its own productions. Last year, the company performed in Trenton, Flemington and Bridgewater. One of its most unusual performances last year was given in Trinity Church. It was a modern jazz ballet, "The Covenant," presented at the sermon at a 9 a.m. Sunday service and as the starting point for a discussion on religion and the dance.

Detailed information about the Ballet Society's program may be found in the advertisement on page 6 of this week's issue of Town Topics.

PAS DE DEUX

For Dancer Series. Sponsored jointly by McCarter Theatre and the Princeton Ballet Society, a series of dance events will be presented this season at the theatre.

Martha Graham and her company will make their Princeton debut on Sunday, October 9, at the National Ballet will come on Sunday, October 23, at 3 and the Robert Joffrey Ballet will return to Princeton on Sunday, April 9, also at 3.

Subscriptions for all three may be obtained at the McCarter Theatre box-office. The theatre said this week that some price locations are already sold out, and that more than twice as many subscriptions have been sold this time last year.

Remaining singles will go on sale about three weeks before each concert.

READY FOR THE MOVIES?

Come to McCarter. The career of Orson Welles and screen adaptations of famous novels will occupy McCarter this year in the course of the Classic Film Series.

The programs will begin on Tuesday, October 4, at 8 p.m. with "The Magnificent Ambersons," continuing on Tuesday nights with "The Lady from Shanghai," "A Touch of Evil," "Othello" and "The Trial," all produced and directed by Welles.

"Novel into Film" will be the theme of the second half of the series. It will include Faulkner's "Intruder in the Dust," Melville's "Billy Budd," Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises," Dostoevski's "The Brothers Karamazov" and Lawrence's "Song and Love." Season subscriptions are now on sale at the McCarter box-office. Next week, details can be obtained at the International Film Series.

PLAYHOUSE
What Did You Do in the War, Daddy? (now playing) This deals with the kind of Hollywood war in which nobody dies, everybody has a lot of fun, and soldiers are far more interested in beautiful girls than in battle survival. The story concerns a captain played by Dick Shawn, who has never seen combat but knows all the procedures in the manual; his practical lieutenant, James Coburn; intelligence officer Harry Morgan, and the village beauty, Giovanna Ralli. The captain leads his men on a hopeless mission, only to discover that the Sicilian enemies are highly willing to surrender, providing they may hold a wine festival. In the midst of all the slapstick, the Germans return and it is cast and mouse from there on in. There are some funny moments, and Giovanna Ralli is certainly a delicious piece of Italian pastry.

PRINCE
A Patch of Blue (now playing) introduces a talented new actress in Elizabeth Hartman who plays the role of a blind girl.

Primarily this is a story of a friendship that grows between two people. The blind heroine, Selma, is kept locked up in a dum apartment in San Francisco until the day when she escapes her grandfather, only to find her grandfather is taking her to the park. She is befriended by a young Negro reporter played by Sidney Poitier, who opens up new worlds to her. Shelley Winters is her waitress-prostitute mother and Wallace Ford ap-

The girl falls in love with the benefactor she cannot see. The inter-racial aspect is handled with delicacy. Miss Hartman was nominated for an Oscar for her inspired performance. The "best supporting actress" award went to Miss Winters for her acting in this film.

GARDEN

Dear John (now playing) is an adult art film from Sweden that has received enthusiastic critical response in this country.

Christina Schollin is the girl in the story, a waitress in a small Scandinavian port living with her brother and her small daughter who was born out of wedlock. The man played by Jarl Kulle is a well captain looking for quick romance who finds a girl drawn into a deep affection for the white girl.

The simple story is fascinating, because of the superb acting and the technique in which the tale unfolds. There is a naturalness that holds interest and sympathy in Swedish, English, Italian.

NEW STRAND

Shakespeare Wallfah (opens Sunday): The flange of India

DEAR JOHN: Christina Schollin and Jarl Kulle are lovers in the Swedish film now at the Garden Theatre. The art film, which has broken attendance records in major art cities, was a nominee for the best foreign film in the Academy Awards.

as well as a tender love story, has been effectively captured in this subtle, sensitive film without leaning on the clichés which are so often a part of Indian pictures.

The story concerns a small, early-sexy but talented group of Shakespearean actors (mostly British) who travel around India appearing at schools, colleges and broken-down theatres. This fictional group is based on a real company which tours India more successfully, headed by Geoffrey Kendal and his wife Laura Liddell, who play themselves in the film.

Felicity Kendal appears as their daughter, as in real life. She becomes involved with a handsome Indian playboy, Shashi Kapoor, who breaks her heart with his two-timing ways. Madhur Daffrey portrays his Indian mistress. The acting throughout is excellent, although the picture is slightly long.

IT'S "NEVER TOO LATE"

is "Villagers' Passport." For the final show of the summer season the Villagers of Middlebury are presenting the Broadway hit comedy "Never Too Late." It will be on view this weekend and next, Sept. 16-18 and 23-25. The production will be staged at the Villagers Barn Theatre, Colonial Farms, on Amwell Road in Middlebury. Frank Edgar of New Brunswick will act as director of the production, with Reid Cruikshanks of Somerset in the lead role of Harry Lambert. Mr. Edgar has demonstrated his talent with face in other Villager hits including "See How They Run" and "Wake Up, Darling." Mr. Cruikshanks is a veteran television and movie performer, appearing on the Steve Allen Show, the Dupont Show of the Month, CBS documentaries and several com-

BOY MISSING TWO WEEKS
From Rocky Hill, James Zapolski, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bronislaw Zapolski of Rocky Hill, has been missing since July 23. His family has had no word from him and no trace of his whereabouts has been found by the police.

James, a sophomore at Princeton High, was last seen on Mt. Lucas Road at about 2 p.m. Saturday, July 23, by 23-year old Wesley Weissenbarger who was house-sitting for his uncle. Municipal and state police have issued a missing persons bulletin throughout the eastern part of the country.

When last seen, the boy was riding a new gold and white 15-speed French bicycle made by Dynamax with the name "Tour de France" in large letters on the crossbar. He had discussed a possible bicycle trip to Florida.

He was wearing cut-off light colored jeans, short-sleeved white shirt with stripes, low white sneakers and no socks. He is over six feet tall, weighs about 140-150 pounds, has greenish-blue eyes and brown hair and is light complexioned. He is left handed.

His parents and teachers described him as a good student who was extremely interested in school work. He was scheduled to take advanced courses in Latin, math and Russian this year. He participated in track, debate, Russian and cycle clubs at the school.

Anyone who saw him after 2 p.m. Saturday, July 23, or who might have information leading to his whereabouts is asked to notify the state police or his parents.

BIRTHS

Nineteen born. Thirteen girls and six boys were born last week at Princeton Hospital.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hopcroft, 7, "Tour de France" in large letters on the crossbar. He had discussed a possible bicycle trip to Florida. He was wearing cut-off light colored jeans, short-sleeved white shirt with stripes, low white sneakers and no socks. He is over six feet tall, weighs about 140-150 pounds, has

RESPONSE IS HEAVY
To Adult Classes. Initial response to the opening of the Princeton Adult School has been so great that those interested in participating in the more than 40 classes and lectures are urged to register immediately, according to Mrs.
Robert V. Dilley, chairman of the school. Most of the classes are restricted in size. The complete curriculum appears on pages 22 and 23.
There will be unlimited registration, however, for the lecture series entitled "Composition and Convention," and which leading astronomers and physicists will discuss the structure and origins of the universe. Most of the speaker-will be from Princeton University and include R. H. J.
Duke, P. J. E. Peebles, Martin
Schwarzschild, D. C. Morton,
R. E. Danielson, J. C. Brandt
and R. A. Phinney.

A new course offered for the fall term, which starts September 29, concerns engraving on metal. Mrs. Joel Greenberg will guide a project to decorate jewelry, book-plates, hostess, clock faces, trousers, buttons and mugs.
The class will be open to both beginners and more advanced craftsmen.
Revised this year, the curriculum will be the parent discussion groups with Miss Marion Simon as instructor.
She will guide a course dealing with children from two to five.
To these groups parents will share questions, ideas and experiences in raising their children.

Linguistics will be the central topic of a course to be taught by William Moulton de Borja, Princeton University. The course will cover phonetics, grammar, historical and comparative linguistics, dialect geography, etc.
Once again there will be a class in English fundamentals under the direction of Robert Orr of Princeton High School.
It will be for English speaking and reading students and will deal with written and oral communication. There will be some outside reading and writing required of the participants.

There will be two classes in "English for the Foreign Born."
The first of these will be administered by Mrs. Anne Staal.
It will be for those who have just arrived in the United States and will focus on basic English for identification may be obtained to those who need them.
A stamped, return-addressed request for information will also be distributed.
All residents are urged to complete this card and return it to the fire department, where it will be made a contribution to the fund drive.
English course for those with some foundation in reading.

A PROMISE KEPT

After 50 years, "I went back to fulfill a promise," said Alan Richards this week, as he recounted the strange, sad reunion pledge he kept this summer with eight schoolmates, all of them killed as youths in World War I.

"We all knew one another at Fettes College in Scotland, you see," Mr. Richards began. "One of the boys — Donald Mackintosh — had known me since we were schoolboys together at St. Ninian's school in Dumfriesshire — he was what we called my 'shadow'; that is, my 'big brother', so to speak."

"Anyhow, we all knew one another at Fettes. I was the youngest — 15 — the rest were 18 and 19 years old. In the summer of 1916, Mackintosh said, 'Let's agree to meet again in 50 years and see what's happened to us in half a century.'"

And to this summer, Mr. Richards went back to keep the pledge. He was the only one of the nine to do so. The other eight had all been killed while fighting with Scottish regiments in 1917-18.

Except for his youth in 1916, he might have been one of them. As it was, he enlisted in the Royal Air Force in 1918 when he reached the legal age, and served with the RAF until mid-1919.

Mr. Richards, who lives at

A RENDEZVOUS WITH DEATH: "Sir, I have come back to report..." said Alan Richards, lone survivor of a group of Scottish schoolboys who pledged, in 1916, that they would meet again in 1966. All but Mr. Richards were killed in the next two years in World War I. On Sunday afternoon, July 24, 1966, Mr. Richards went to St. Lambert's Churchyard in Yorkshire and with his clergyman brother, held a brief, solitary service of remembrance.

617 Princeton-Kingston Road, stated that, despite mortal wounds, he had led his men to their objective and King George V said that his action was beyond all praise."

Before leaving Princeton, Mr. Richards wrote to the Commonwealth Graves Commission in London asking for information. Upon his arrival in England, he received from the Commission the location of all the graves — to the extent that they were known. Three of the eight without graves, are commemorated by name on the Ploegsteert Memorial in Belgium.

"Young Mackintosh received the Victoria Cross posthumously — that's Great Britain's highest award, you know," Mr. Richards said. "His citation

"We all agreed, back in 1916, that we wanted our year reunion in a place of peace and quiet," Mr. Richards recalls. "It was that, all right. I held the service in the graveyard of the Yorkshire church where my brother, the Rev. Windsor Richards, is minister."

The eight classmates belonged to such Scottish regiments as the Seaforth Highlanders, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, and the Royal Scots and the Highland Light Infantry.

"VILE" AND "DISGUSTING" are the words Kathy Kerr might use to describe the talent of a long line of women's fashions wending the milekirt. Mimi Jenks, from the Midwest who is visiting Kaley, echoes her disapproval, but others see harm in a different light.

Question of the Week

Question: What is your opinion of the milekirt?

Where asked: Nassau Street

Kathy Becker, State Road freshman at Emerson College: "I depend upon the girl and it depends upon her legs. Personally, I like them."

Abby Shridon, Province Line Road, PDS sophomore: "In order to wear them, you have to have good-looking legs. If you've got big, boney knees, forget it. I like them myself."

Mimi Jenks, St. Louis student: "I think they're too short. Somebody who wears them should be put in a zoo."

Kathy Kerr, Bear Tavern Road, Hopewell Township, freshman, Cretaceous College, Hackettstown: "I think they're fine and even if you look good in them, I still think they're disgusting. We were in France this summer and that's all the women are wearing in Europe."

Judy Haberman, Cold Soil Road, Lawrence Township, student, Boston University: "I don't care for them. The design isn't particularly pleasing to the eye."

Tom Gumbart, 197 Mt. Lucas Road, PHS sophomore: "They're the greatest thing to come along since Cleopatra!"

Shirley Walter, Skillman, PHS senior: "I guess they are good for those who have a good figure. For myself? Never."

Bill Flaherty, Alexander Road, Princeton Junction, PHS sophomore: "I think milekirts look very nice on the right type of girl. If she has the right kind of knees, my only objection is they're too long."

Debbie McMillen, Penn Lyle Road, PHS junior: "They're fine over in England, where girls are allowed to wear them, but here in the United States we're not supposed to wear them in school and most public places don't like them. And most parents won't allow their daughters to wear them. I don't like them; they're too short and it's essential to have a good figure. That's another problem. When you sit down, look what happens."

Richard A. Cunningham, 3rd, 100 1/2 Lehigh Avenue, Slalom King Academy, New York: "I think that styles are changing a lot. Ten years from now they may wear even less. I think they are more liberal. I like them, definitely!"

Carter Lewis, 345 Nassau Street, PHS sophomore: "It's something they've cooked up like the topless bathing suit, only something they can wear in public. I love 'em."

Emilie Solotorovsk, Heather Lane, PHS junior: "I think it's nice they have new fashions instead of the traditional and I wish the schools would accept them."

Carol Siskier, 307 Witherspoon Street, PHS junior: "I have no objection to them in Princeton. They're in, but pretty soon they'll be out. It's just a cycle. They're a fad. Before long, skirts will be below the knees again."

Jean Briscoe, Clearview Avenue, PHS junior: "They're the current mod fashion and adults that don't like them should keep quiet. They should accept them because things were accepted in their days. I like them. That's all you can wear in skirts now. You can wear one inch above the knee in school but that's all."

Diane Bardwell, 24 Balcori Drive, PHS sophomore: "I think they're really stuff and I wear them. I don't see why high schools won't let you wear them as long as they're not too extreme. When women wear dresses to the ground they made such a fuss about showing an ankle. Why can't they accept this change as long as it is not too extreme?"

Tom Lippmann, Cranbury Road, Princeton Junction, Junior, Notre Dame: "They're really nothing to them. If girls have the right legs for them, they're all right. I'm waiting for the future. Things are getting better and better."

Molly Katz, Mt. Lucas Road, PHS junior: "I think they're really groovy but they're dangerous for drivers when they see girls along the street because it causes accidents. They're mod."

Judi Wheeler, Valley Road PHS sophomore: "I like them. I feel if they look all right and are not too extreme, they're fine."

Nina Solotorovsk, Heather Lane, PHS senior: "I think miniskirts are great. I'm the owner of one and I also have a very short dress. London is setting the fashion pace and we should keep up with this pace. They look good on people who have tolerable legs and they show off the texture of stockings well."

Loraine LaPlace, 302 Nassau Street, PHS sophomore: "I think they're only for people who are willing to keep up with the times. A lot of people think you are disgraced if you wear one because they are not used to it."

Another Princeton Bank Customer Service

Because a pre-printed deposit slip can save you time and money — the Princeton Bank provides you with another new benefit.

Checking account customers are now being supplied with deposit slips, pre-printed with name and encoded account number already included. All that is required is to enter the amount of your deposit. One entry produces an original and two copies. This new, easy deposit slip costs you nothing. It saves you time, too.

Here is another benefit to Princeton Bank customers, made possible by the use of modern computer techniques.

Another proof that Princeton's oldest bank is abreast of today and attuned to tomorrow — for your benefit.

There's Work To Be Done.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Now that the school year has begun, we are all naturally delighted with the new John Witherspoon School—at least with the interior. However the exterior or landscaping progress leaves much to be desired.

It's bad enough in this dry weather to have the children kicking up the dust but imagine the mud pie when it rains. Also this barren and unfinished ground greatly detracts from the building's appearance. What is holding up this necessary work?

(Mrs.) Claire G. Paronelli

Child Care Center Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Are the residents of Princeton going to let another summer come without providing for adequate child care for the many children in this area whose mothers must work or are ill?

There is a desperate need here which is not being met by this community. People must be unaware of the importance and urgency of this situation, or something wrong has been done before now.

As a working mother and mother of three children, I know that the only resources available in this area are the private "baby sitters" who take children into their homes during the day at a cost of from $25 per child, per week, on up. This is only from 9 until 5, with a light lunch included. To multiply $25 by three (children) it becomes apparent what a great financial strain and impossible burden this can be. It is then hardly any wonder that some mothers resort to leaving their small children at home, hoping they will be all right. This situation should not be allowed to continue!

At Houtan, Baltimore, Okla. City, and other places can establish child day care centers with adequate trained personnel, why can't Princeton? We have much to be proud of in our community, but in this most important problem, Princeton lags—it does not lead.

Last, Stolen or Styrad.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I may be wrong in believing that P.H.S. is a fine school. I've been told this since I entered the school system, but it is sometimes hard to believe! Consider: If you will a school where someone (or thing) would steal another person's notebook on the second day of classes. This happened to me, and I think it is a sign of something.

This was a very special notebook to me. It was covered with denim (Levi's) material, there was a pocket on the front and an emblem saying the size up in the right-hand corner. THERE ARE NONE OTHER LIKE IT IN PRINCETON! I've been keeping my eyes open for the notebook, and I've asked my friends to do so too.

But it is having my notebook stolen which bothers me most. It is the fact that P.H.S. is not as fine as it is named. Too many books, purses, wallets, notebooks, clothes and too much money and jewelry are stolen every year for P.H.S. to be considered "one of the top high schools in the country." What can I do to help? What is being done?

I want my denim notebook back! Please!

A Unitarian Replies.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
If there is anything upon which we Unitarians can agree it is the right of dissent. But while I admire the vigor of the dissent registered against me in your Mailbox last week, Robert J. Levine, as a Unitarian I am ashamed of his logic and he should be too!

Mr. Levine took violent exception to the propriety of a letter I had circulated among "Fellow Unitarians" (not "Dear Unitarians" as he had it) in which I asked financial support for the campaign of David Fred for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

One of Mr. Levine's chief complaints was that I addressed myself to "Unitarians." Since I could have said "Fellow Americans" or "Fellow Citizens" or "Fellow Bird Watchers."

But I suspect any of those would have elicited more complaints than I got from the Unitarian two in 2,000. May-

Mary Flaherty, Alexander Road, Princeton Junction: I think they're cute on a lot of kids but I don't see why people wear them because there are so many places you can't wear them. Personally, I like them.

I should have said "Fellow sort of unshared method. Nobody" in which case some poor Nobody would have chewed me out because he felt he was a Somebody!

 of the Summit church. As a member of the church, I have that list. And contrary to Mr. Levine, we had the complete list!

But, I am even more astounded at Mr. Levine's "knowledge" that "his Mr. Frost's" supporters have apparently singled out Unitarians to support him. Mr. Levine should know better.

As a non-proselytizing denomination we are one of the mildest. Even if we assume that our members exert an influence in the intellectual and political life of the country beyond our numbers, we couldn't even dream of swinging an election! The fact is, while the Frost Campaign headquarters sent out about 2000 "Fellow Unitarian" letters, we mailed literature to over 100,000 other addresses—appealing to every responsible group and individual we could think of, for one does not over-estimate the power of Unitarians!

I am also puzzled as to how Mr. Levine got the notion that

Bike Inspection Tuesday

A bicycle inspection for all Borough School children who ride to school will be held Tuesday morning at 8:40 at the John Witherspoon School.

LT Francis Maguire said he hopes parents will cooperate in seeing that their children are familiar with bicycle safety rules and that their bikes have the required safety features.

my letter in any way constituted an official endorsement of David Frost by our church. My own home address appeared at the top, and the letter was signed by me, for the finance committee of the Frost Campaign Committee, J. Robert Hanson, Chairman.

Impetuous fellow that he seems, Mr. Levine's most serious error comes in suggesting that Unitarians don't mix politics with religion. Indeed we do! Every year we hold a national convention in which a long agenda of urgent social, economic, and political problems are discussed. On many of them we draft and adopt formal resolutions calling upon our government to take specific action.

One of the resolutions adopted in Miami this spring pertained to Vietnam. We noted the threat of escalation into a Nuclear War; urged the US to use the UN in attempting to obtain a cease fire, urged negotiations with the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam, and the formation of a representative interim government there.

Princeton has been the central issue of David Frost's campaign. As a Unitarian, I am greatly indebted to Dr. Frost for his indefatigable and courageous espousal of a worthy cause officially endorsed by our church. I am saddened that a fellow Unitarian, in a moment of unexplained pique, should have done such a disservice to one of our ablest members.

WERE FOR UNICEF. The annual (let's see, is it five or six years now?) UNICEF Fair was held Sunday in the back yard of the Robert van de Velde at 222 Western Way. Admission was 3 cents and various excitements were about a nickel each (for a dollar you could dump a whole pall of water over the pomegranate sponge boy). Total proceeds: $65.53 for the United Nations children's fund. Ellen Raamlo, 16, of 214 Western Way, founded the Fair when she was much younger, and stayed around on Sunday as elder statesman. publicity; Mrs. Norman Mather, teacher representative; and Richard Suedeler, chairman school board liaison and editor of P. T. A. newsletter.

Also, Mrs. Frederick Gallagher, co-chairman school board liaison; Mrs. Euelah Baker, teacher organization representative; John Rosko, safety; and Mrs. Herbert Dillon, Maurice Hawk School, and Mrs. Andrew Drummond, Dutch Neck School home room mother representatives.

UNIVERSITY TO OPEN
For 220th Year, Princeton University's campus returned to its normal pitch of activity this week as the University's 3244 undergraduates prepared to register before the opening of classes Monday. New students and 820 freshmen have already registered and a large advance-guard of other students is on hand to await Saturday's registration of returning undergraduates.

The official opening of the University will be held Sunday and will mark the University's 220th year. This week is dedicated to the freshmen, who have been buying items ranging from contour sheets to refrigerators "that might work."

The newly arrived freshmen represent some 540 different secondary schools, with high school students outnumbering private secondary school pupils by a ratio of 3 to 2. They have been invited to 14 student-faculty forums, concerned with broad topics related to the University's programs of study.

The graduate school will begin to begin classes on Monday, with an expected enrollment of nearly 1500.

Teen's Raffle $1600

Princeton teenagers have $1400 in a bank account titled "Princeton Student Lounge" as they start a new year of money raising for their hoped-for teenage center. Funds have been raised at car washes, dances and billion sales. Saturday's dance at First Presbyterian Church netted close to $450, according to Rogers Carrington, director of Youth Associates.

Students at Princeton High School, Princeton Day, and Hun Schools who are interested in taking part in plans for the Youth Associates' club, the student lounge and a teenagers' newspaper, are invited to a buffet supper from 4 to 6 p.m. this Sunday at the home of Rogers Carrington, 24 Balsam Lane.

VASSAR WILL DANCE

At Annual Ball. Plans are being made for the annual winter scholarship ball of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey. The theme for this year's event is "Lucky Thirteenth," commemorating the 13th year the Vassar Club has used the dance as a means of raising scholarship funds.

Working on this year's committee are Mrs. Frederick S. Gallagher and Mrs. Robert F. Bachelder III, tables; Mrs. A. Peter Carter, reservations; Mrs. Jack E. Dibb and Mrs. George Esler, invitations; Mrs. Peter Luck II, patrons; Mrs. William Lifland, orchestra; Mrs. J. Harris Mathey, Mrs. Petitioner Marzoni and Mrs. Ralph Peter, decorations; Mrs. Karl D. Pettit Jr., publicity; and Mrs. James Shriver III, arrangements.

The proceeds of the dance enable central New Jersey to attend Vassar. The recipient of the scholarship funds raised last year is Majia Maria Pia Bassoli of Trenton.

PARENTS INVITED

To Littlebug School. Parents of Littlebug School pupils have been invited to two evening School Nights on Monday, September 26, and Tuesday, September 27, 8 p.m. Kindergarten through third grade parents will attend the first night and fourth and fifth grade parents the second night.

Mrs. William H. Angoff, president of the P.T.O., will conduct the business meetings, during which faculty and administration members will present the coming year. Parents will be invited to visit individual classrooms and to gather for refreshments following the business meeting.

Miss Sarah Jaeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Jaeger of Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, is the Kiwanis Club's "Young Citizen of the Month."

The award will be presented at the Kiwanis luncheon this Thursday at the Nassau Inn.

Miss Jaeger, who graduated from Princeton Day School in June, has been admitted to Radcliffe College with sophomore standing. She was head of the PDS Student Council during her senior year. She campaigned for and won student and faculty approval to incorporate the honor system, a tradition at Miss Pine's School, into the new Princeton Day School organization.

The Council president had previously considered an honorary rather than action-oriented office. She also initiated and carried through such activities as faculty-student lunches to better relationships, student elections giving wider representation to school groups and student opportunity in leadership, and headed a benefit dance for the hospital play for two years, played varsity field hockey and lacrosse.

She has spoken for Princeton youth on radio, in newspapers and at service clubs to help the community understand her generation.

A native of Hartford, Conn., she moved with her family to Linton, Md., at the age of 9, coming to Princeton five years ago. She and her brother, Harold Jr., age 15, are weekend sailors who race their Penguin in Chesapeake Bay summers.

DANCES SUCCESSFUL
The High School Parking Lot, The Friday evening teen-age dances which were held in the parking area of Princeton High School have been termed a success by the Princeton Recreation Department.

The department said that dances averaged between 300 and 400, and that in early summer many of the teen-agers enjoyed live music provided by bands from this area. The recreation board is now working with high school students to plan fall and winter programs.

BARN BURNS
With Owen's Blinest, a barn owned by Charles W. Tatum of Dutch Neck Road, Hightstown, burned to the ground last weekend but Mr. Tatum was not injured.

He said he planned to burn the barn anyway, but someone apparently beat him to it. The Allentown Fire Department responded to an alarm but agreed to let the barn burn to the ground.

Mr. Tatum's farm is on the Clarkson-Cox's Corner Road in Clarksonburg. The blaze was believed self-deliberately.

AA TO HOLD MEETING

In Lambertville, The Lambertville area group of Alcoholics Anonymous will present an area meeting this Sunday at 2:30 as a public information service. The meeting will be held in the activities building near the First Presbyterian Church, North Union Street.

Three speakers will discuss how alcoholism can affect one's life. The meeting is particularly directed towards the clergy, the medical profession and law enforcement officials interested in AA's alcoholism recovery program. Anyone concerned with alcoholism as a personal or community health problem is invited to attend.

There are three AA fellowship groups that meet weekly in the Princeton area. Further information may be obtained by calling 854-7526.

The juniors models will be Diane Holback, Andrea Deborah and Susan Michael, and Roger Holback and Meredith Michael.

The Women's Club hopes to raise between $500 and $1000 through the show. The money will help the hospital continue its expansion program which includes a new patient care wing, a new chapel and a modernized administrative area. The cost for the program is $2,701.30.

LEARN TO PAINT

Adults and Children. A week-end painting workshop for adults will begin on September 19 at the Studio on the Canal. The workshop will be held each Saturday and will feature water color painting with outdoor trips.

Offering the course is E.L. Little, a graduate of Ontario College of Art in Toronto, Canada, and a New York artist. He is a member of the Princeton Art Association and teaches water color painting in the West Windsor School.

Other classes scheduled for the fall-winter term at the Studio on the Canal are sketch sessions, oil and water color painting, sculpture and ceramics. Children's workshops in painting and ceramics are being held now after school.

GARDENERS TO DIG IN

For Conference. A three-day conference of the National Association of Gardeners will open next Tuesday at the Nassau Inn. The conference is sponsored by the Princeton Garden Club.

AFPSERS ARRIVE

From Overseas. Three American Field Service students were officially welcomed to the United States last week at a swim party at the home of Mrs. John P. Cleaver, president of AFS in Princeton.

The visitors included Mariette Aasebergers of the Netherlands, who will live with Marilyn and Jennifer Welsh and their family at 228 Dodd Lane and attend Princeton High School; Francine Fossler from France who will spend the year with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Young, 16 MacLean Club, and attend Princeton Day School with Mary Young; and Lindsay Lloyd from New Zealand, who will be a boarder at Lawrenceville when it opens next week. Until then, he will stay with his American family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Kraft, Bidgeview Road, and their three sons. Two guests of honor at the swim party were Sandy Schuele and Diane Willis. Sandy, now a senior at Princeton High School, spent two months in Concepcion, Paraguay, as an AFSPer and David just returned from two months in Malaysia.

30TH REUNION SET

For Princeton High School. The Class of 1959, Princeton High School, will hold its 30th reunion on Saturday, October 8, at the Nassau Inn. A buffet, the Prince William Room with a cocktail hour preceding the buffet at 6:30.

Music for dancing will be provided by New Stewart and his group. All members, teachers and friends of the class are invited to attend.

Serving on the reunion committee are Mrs. Hazel Blackwell, Mrs. Marjorie Britton, Mrs. Barbara Macauley, Mrs. Gwen Rigg, Mrs. Sue Rightmire, Mrs. Florence Taylor, Percival B. Silverter, Theodore T. Tams and Louis Verberst. Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Macauley at 921-6834. Mrs. Taylor at 737-0672 or P. B. Silverter at 739-0670.

FASHION TO BE SHOWN

At Woman's Club Luncheon. A fall fashion show and luncheon will be held Thursday, September 28, at the Princeton Inn, starting at 12. Proceeds will benefit the Princeton High School.

The Primary Turnout: 16.5%

Democrats and Republicans turned out in almost equal numbers in Borough and Township in Tuesday's primaries although there were no local contests.

In both municipalities, David Frost, campaigning for the Democratic Senatorial nomination on an anti-Viet Nam platform, ran far ahead of his regular Democratic opponent, Warren W. Wilets. However, Mr. Wilents won at the state level by a 7-to-3 margin.

In the Borough, 733 of the 4,504 registered voters cast a primary ballot, or 16.25%. In the Township, 1,057 of the 6,279 registered voters went to the polls, or 16.5%.

"F" DAY SET FOR SEPT. 30 - Joe Bonfield, 13 year veteran of Keats sales force listens to another Keats salesman, Mark Cohen. A consistent winner of the Ford 500 club sales award, Cohen is happiest when he's busy.

And busy he, Bonfield and the entire Keats sales force will be during the 1967 Ford line showing season, which begins on Sept. 30. With only three weeks before "F" day, Bonfield,

Cohen and the other salesmen at Keats are rushing through as many new 1966 leftover deals as they can. Because of the critical need for room to accommodate the new models arriving in just a few weeks the prices of all new leftover 1966 models have been reduced drastically. Keats Ford, Central Jersey's only "Total Ford Dealership," is located in Trenton at 1751 North Olden Avenue Extension.

CRASH KILLS SAILOR

From Plainsboro, Douglas M. Cormack, Jr., a 31-year old resident of Plainsboro, was killed in an automobile accident Saturday near Washington, D. C.

A second class fire control technician in the Navy, he was returning from the wedding of a friend at which he had been an usher. The body was taken to the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital.

Mr. Cormack, born in Princeton, had lived in Plainsboro all his life. In 1963 he graduated from Princeton High School and joined the navy. He was stationed at Norfolk, Va., aboard the U.S.S. Orion, part of the Second Fleet. He had been an honor recruit at the San Diego Training Center.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Cormack, Sr., 54 Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro; two brothers, John and Richard; and a sister, Jean, all at home.

GOLDMAN TO RETURN

To Princeton University. Prof. Eric Goldman, Rollins Professor of History at Princeton University, has resigned as President Johnson's intellectual-in-residence and will return to the University this fall.

A special consultant to the President since early 1964, Prof. Goldman was responsible for keeping "a continuous flow of specific proposals, general approaches and opinions from a wide range of experts outside the Government" to the White House. He helped to devise the presidential-scholarship program which brings high school graduates and to recruit young government workers.

Dr. Goldman resigned his part-time Washington position because he felt that he could not promote real co-operation between President Johnson and members of the intellectual community. One reason for the estrangement, he said, was their mutual mistrust of one another.

At Princeton, Prof. Goldman is expected to resume teaching American history in this century and devote time to by a fireworks display. Writing a book that promises. On Sunday an interdenominational United Church Service will be held at 11 in the grammar school auditorium.

He is the author of many books and articles and has moderated the television program "The Open Mind." He is for any of the weekend events except the Saturday dinner.

REGISTRATION OPEN

For Fall YWCA Activities. Registration for the fall program at the YWCA is still on being planned for Hopewell. The scene of Revolutionary war activities and the home of John Hart, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Charles A. Lindbergh, pilot of "The Spirit of St. Louis," lived there for a time in the early 1900s. The celebration, under the direction of the Hopewell Valley Jaycees, will last three days, from September 23-25.

On the first day of festivities, an open house will be held by Rockwell Industries from 4-7. At 7:30 an introductory program will begin, followed by a block dance near Borough Hall which will feature the music of the "New" Stewart group.

On Saturday at 10, a pet show will be put on by the Cub Scouts. In the afternoon there will be fire and ambulance demonstrations with equipment from the towns of Hopewell, Lambertville, Rocky Hill, Lawrenceville and Pennington. On display during the day will be an arts and crafts exhibit by the Hopewell Valley Jaycees-etc. and a Boy Scout exhibit on the Hopewell Grammar School grounds.

In the afternoon, beginning at 4, there will be a chicken barbecue. Men of the First Presbyterian Church will handle cooking chores. At 7:30 a variety show will take place in the grammar school auditorium, and will be followed by a fireworks display.

For Youth's Peace Essay.

The West Windsor Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the country and the world, is sponsoring a worldwide essay contest for young people. Topic: a plan for world peace.

A total of $50,000 in prize money will be awarded, including a $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in October.

At that time the first prize winner will be chosen. For more information, call 924-4625.

How To Survive

You wouldn't think sitting by a stream waiting for a fish to bite could be dangerous, but it is common knowledge that thousands are injured yearly as a result of too-casual handling of fish in the lake. So before you head for that stream, make a mental note of the following hazards: traveling with hooks and plugs attached to the line, casting in a crowd, casting over another angler's head or body. A fish hook buried in the hand may not cut it, but it will be very serious wound, but it can become infected and cause tetanus, so carry a bottle of antiseptic in your fishing box, and check with a doctor if a hook wound is at all deep. Play it safe and let us serve you.

BOROUGH HALL WINS AWARD. Princeton's new Borough Hall, shown here, was cited last week "for outstanding architectural excellence in design" by the New Jersey Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and its two architects, Richard J. Charlton and Henry A. Jandl, have received a commendatory scroll. The design was one of about 40 submitted in its category. Mr. Charlton also received commendation for his Meadow Lakes project in the category of completed construction. Here again, about 40 entries were submitted. The awards were made in the course of the architects' annual meeting at Spring Lake, N. J. One copy of the scroll now hangs in the mayor's office in Borough Hall. The two architects have the other.

 more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

The contest is open to anyone who will be 14 but less than 22 as of January 15, 1967. The West Windsor Lions Club will present a $50 savings bond to the West Windsor resident whose essay is judged to be the best. A $25 savings bond will be awarded to the first runner-up. Essays must be limited to 5,000 words and will be judged on content (75 per cent), organization (ten per cent), style (ten per cent) and mechanics (five per cent). Closing date for the club's contest is December 10. Those wishing to enter should contact Mr. T. M. Sherlock or any member of the West Windsor Lions for full details.

OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY. For First Aid Squad, The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will hold an open house at its headquarters on North Harrison Street this Saturday from 10-5. The building will be open for inspection and squad members will be available to answer questions.

A new ambulance purchased by the squad this year will be on display, as will the rescue truck and equipment is used in the squad's work. Movies on artificial respiration, first aid, safety and other first aid and safety topics will be shown throughout the day. Those wishing to practice artificial respiration under the supervision of squad members who are also Red Cross first aid instructors, may do so on a life-sized training mannequin.

The open house committee, consisting of Arthur Stoller, Bill Schroeder and Don Schaffer, is handling the program. The purpose of the event, according to George Hunt, president of the squad, "is to give the people that we serve a chance to learn more about us, what we do, how we work and what we have to work with." Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the squad. Rain-date for the open house is the following Saturday, September 24.

BURR TO BE HONORED
 At Graveside Service, Aaron Burr, third vice-president of the United States, will be honored this Friday at 3 p.m. exactly 130 years after his burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Two members of the Aaron Burr Association will place a wreath of evergreens on Burr's marble gravestone. The ceremony will precede Saturday's meeting of the association in Litchfield, Conn. According to the association, Burr has been made a whipping boy in American history, and it seeks to clear his reputation, "tarnished by careless repetition of harsh and unsubstantiated attacks made by contemporaries over a century ago."

Burr died at the age of 80 on September 14, 1836, on Staten Island, N.Y., and was buried two days later in Princeton. He was laid to rest in "President's Row" beside his father, the Rev. Aaron Burr, and his grandfather, the Rev. Jonathan Edwards, both of whom had been president of Princeton University.

sities for further work in law
When the three women were told about recording for the blind, they volunteered their services. Nicole Jalinde, born in Lyon, France, spent five years in the Université de Paris and received a degree in law and she worked in his office until she came to this country.
She and her husband met in Princeton and following his graduation from the University and his military service he applied for and received his present American scholarship
She has been monitoring other readers who record for the blind in English.

Also acting as a monitor was Brigitte V. Wyss, born in Zurich, Switzerland. She taught photography in Munich and worked there as an advertising photographer and later as a secretary in French. After this she established her own photography studio in Zurich, and met her husband three years ago.

Aleandrina Carey, youngest of the three volunteers, comes from Santiago, Chile. The Princeton unit had been shorter. Spanish readers this summer and she proved particularly helpful by recording in Spanish texts. Her husband
plans to study at New York University next year and then return to Chile and open his own law office.

The three volunteers were among the 300 volunteer readers and nearly 100 other volunteers doing monitoring and other technical and office work in Princeton. The Princeton unit is one of 16 around the country serving more than 1000 blind people with free recordings of whatever educational or professional material may be needed.

REPORT RELEASED
The possibility of regional secessions for the Stony Brook-Millstone watershed will be discussed on Wednesday, September 21, by representatives from more than two dozen municipalities in the watershed.
The meeting was called following the release late in August of an extensive feasibility study prepared by Seeley, Stevenson, Value and Knight of New York at the request of a special committee headed by Jeremiah Farrington.

The committee was formed last July. Money for the report came from the State Department of Health out of the $1 million appropriated for the legislation for such purposes.
The 300-page document ex-pounds methods of sewerage the entire watershed, blocking out costs, both long-range and short range.

Borough Engineer Thomas
Covley and Township Engineer Frank Quinby are interested in the report, but Mr.
Quinby said, "We have to see what can be done on our own municipalities in a live and range as far as geographically as Manville, Monroe and Roseton.

BACK TO HISTORY
For Bainbridge House, The Princeton Historical Society is this week its detailed plans for Bainbridge House, the Nassau Street landmark that has housed the public library for 60 years.
When the library moves into its new building this fall, Bainbridge House will become the home of the Historical Society of Princeton.

Bainbridge House, owned by Princeton University and leased for a dollar-a-year rentals, is one of the oldest buildings in Princeton.
No one knows the precise date of its construction, but it was purchased at a sheriff's sale in 1768 by a member of the Stockton family and remained in Stockton possession until it was sold to Princeton University in 1877 by Mrs. Mary Stockton Terry.

Bainbridge House is named for Commodore William Bainbridge, commander of the "Constitution." Commodore Bainbridge's father rented the house from 1770 to 1775, and the naval hero was born there on May 4, 1774.

The elder Bainbridge was a loyalist physician, and when the British occupied Princeton in 1776, he invited Sir William Howe to make "Bainbridge House" his headquarters.

When the Princeton Public Library was founded in 1910, its unites approached the University to see whether Bainbridge House might be purchased and the University made its "dollar-a-year" offer. That agreement will continue when the Historical Society moves into the historic building.

With Bainbridge House, the Historical Society plans a continuing program of exhibitions, a genealogical library, a resource file of information on Princeton's early ethnic groups, educational institutions,
businesses and professions.

At McGraw-Hill, six appointments in the McGraw-Hill Book Company's retail orders division in Hightstown have been announced. John P. Dill, with McGraw-Hill since 1963 and before that with the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, will become manager of subscription services.
Robert F. Gullig, who joined the company in 1950, has been named manager of retail order services. Lawrence Little, newly appointed head of subscription order processing, has been with the firm a year as a data control analyst. Finally, he held administrative positions with computer manufacturers and consulting firms.

Robert S. Gamala, new head of the subscription credit and customer services unit, joined the company in 1961 as trade credit supervisor. Lioret Dilafori, who came to McGraw-Hill in 1962 as a supervisor of retail customer service, will act as head of the encyclopedia services unit. Before joining the company he had been an administrative assistant to various officers at Princeton University.

Catherine Rule, new manager of retail order processing, has been with the firm since 1962 as supervisor of retail order services. Previously she was production co-ordinator for the Applied Science Corporation of Princeton.

PHS OUTLOOK — III
(This is the last of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1966.)

Year of the Little Tiger? Since the 1964 season when Princeton High began playing nine-game schedules as a member of the Southern Division of the Central Jersey Group A Conference, it has won eight, lost nine and tied one. In two seasons, the Little Tigers have failed to win half their games. What are the chances for a reversal for the Blue and White in 1966? Will it be a year of glory, a year of failure or somewhere in between? Part of the answer lies in a close look at the schedule.

From a PHS standpoint, the 1966 schedule is a good one. Three relatively tough teams—Thomas Jefferson, Bridgewater-Raritan and Woodbury—have been replaced with three less rugged opponents. The biggest plot by far is the departure of Thomas Jefferson. A 2,000 all-boy school in Elizabeth, NJ has always fielded a tough hard-core team. In two tries, PHS failed to score against TJ, bowing 20-0 and 21-0. In 1964, the Little Tigers underwent a physical beating as well, losing to others their fine tailback, Paul Waldstad. After that, they won only two of seven that year.

So it was with no little relief that Coach Dick Wood welcomed newcomers Asbury Park, J.P. Stevens and North Hunterdon. Asbury Park, which which did not have a good season last year, is returning to Group 3 as a result of a drop in its student body. J. P. Stevens (near Edison) is a fairly new school. Wood reported he heard that it had a good season last fall, including a victory over high-rated Perth Amboy. He said he knew little about North Hunterdon but added that neither it nor Stevens was in a class with Thomas Jefferson.

Madison is the fourth team PHS will meet from outside the boundaries of Mercer

DOUBLE TROUBLE: The brothers Madden—Charles (right) and John—are both vying for the fullback slot on the PHS team. Both are 5-11 but Charles, a junior, weighs 208 pounds. To 171 for John who is a sophomore. (Staff Photo)

County. In two previous years, Pa. and Trenton took a squad the Little Tigers have gone of 66 to Camp Columbus. For down to defeat in this game. Stienert, Ewing and Hamilton, chiefly at the hands of Madison's Glenn Davis. Davis is an outstanding passer. Last November, he accounted for 326 yards, passing against the Blue and White. In all, he tossed scoring strikes of 62, 12, 19 and 25 yards. Another pass play covered 72 yards.

The Princeton game marked the culmination of a high school career that saw Davis throw 40 TD passes. Now he is gone and Madison is just another team on the schedule. Traditional Rivals. Remaining are five traditional Mercer County rivals against which PHS, with the exception of Notre Dame, has had its share of successes. The others are Trenton, Ewing, Hamilton and Steinert. Against this quintet last year, PHS was 3-2 losing by three points to ND and by five to Trenton.

In one department, all five have an edge on PHS. All had training camps during the first week of September while PHS alone in this area stayed home. A quick rundown found Notre Dame, with 17 returning lettermen, taking 64 boys to Trenton; Steinert, with 12 returning lettermen, took 90 candidates to Branchville; the largest turnout to its history. Ewing, eight returning veterans, took 50 to the Y camp located across from the Princeton University training site at Hightstown; Hamilton took its 12 returning lettermen plus 50 more to a camp outside Greely.

The team Wood is pointing for is Trenton. From a dismal 0-8 log in 1964, THIS came back to win five last year. One of those triumphs was a 12-7 verdict over PHS. In that game, a THIS tackle called Vince Boncompagni, Princeton's outstanding end for the season with what films showed to be a blatant personal foul.

Despite efforts by Wood, no action was taken against THIS.

Wood is too much of a gentleman to believe in or permit grudge games, but he left no doubt that this is the one he wants to win above all others.

From a clinical appraisal Wood seems to be right when he says there are no lemons on the schedule that PHS can't top. Off its strong finish last year, which culminated in its capturing the mythical Mercer County crown, Hamilton appears to be the highest hurdle.

If the blue and white can get by the Hornets in its opener, it will be tantamount to serving notice it will be a county power. The guess here is that it will topple its four evenly matched opponents, lose a close one to Hamilton and possibly another for a 7-2 record.

Together for 3 Years.

Wood, in addition to the schedule, does PHS have going for it? In Wood's view, a mixture of camaraderie and spirit.

"Most of the boys on the first line have played together since they were freshmen," said Wood. A freshman team, by the way, that was undefeated.

"They have plenty of spirit and enthusiasm."

Also, alone among the high school teams here, PHS claims to be the single wing attack. This works in favor of PHS by forcing its opponents to train their defense for an unfamiliar attack.

On the other hand, the single wing doesn't go unless it features competent tailback. PHS does not have a proven tailback.

Speaking about his offense, Wood reported he plans to make more use of the A formation which is similar to the backfield lineup of the single wing but which offers more variety.

"We're principally eager to run passes off plays, which is difficult to do with the single wing," said Wood.

"With the exception of the running pass, a pass from the single wing is usually a pass right from the beginning."

As far as manpower needs, Wood has an ample supply. What he doesn't have is a factor that faces all coaches — time is time to pick the eleven that will work together best as a unit.

However, despite the question marks at tailback at quarterback and the inexperience, color the outlook for PHS this year bright.

And should PHS get by those angry Hornets in its opener at Hamilton, color its outlook very bright indeed.

TIGERS TAKE SHAPE

Several Changes Made.

A nutshell summary of Princeton's football fortunes with the 1966 season in days away offers this estimate: experience on defense, a rebuilt backfield that has good power, and an offensive line that will be a good question mark during the early part of the season.

In keeping with the axiom

that if the other guys can't do a cover much, even an inexperienced offense stands a chance of winning, the Tigers will go with most of their ten players on defense. As the personnel picture stands now, they will start ten lettermen on that platoon — six of them regulars a year ago.

On offense every member of the starting backfield will be a letterman, although only quarterback John Bowers was a regular a year ago. Chuck Peters, who started at quarterback after Bud Bettel was hurt in the seventh game of the season, appears to have won the job at quarterback on the strength of his superior blocking.

Dave Martin, converted from a reserve tailback into a fullback, will provide both good power with his 263-lb. frame and an added asset at that position — ability to pass. Bob Weber, the only junior among the four, has impressed with his performance at tailback despite limited action last season.

Line Reshuffled. A combination of heavy losses by graduation at some positions and early-season injuries at others will send Princeton into the Rutgers game a week from Saturday with a half-dozen players on the offensive line who were not regulars a year ago. Four are lettermen but one, junior Steve Eide, at end, was used almost entirely on defense last fall. Two others are varsity holdovers, one of whom is a converted fullback assigned to the outside guard slot. The seventh is a big but wholly inexperienced sophomore.

Senior Pete Zeitzoff, a regular at short side end a year ago, will provide welcome experience there. The other end will be manned by 6-4 Steve Pierce, who won his letter as a reserve on the defensive platoon last year. He too has been switched to fill the berth vacated by Larry Calk, who set a season record for passes caught with 30 last fall.

Senior Lynn Brewbaker moves up from a reserve captain.

WHY MEDICARE IS VITAL

Have you ever wondered why Medicare became such a vital issue in this country — why the public and Congress supported so overwhelmingly a special system of medical care for people over 65? The answer is this: In the past few decades, the number of people over 65 has grown from an insignificant few to more than 18 million. The reason for this growth? A big part of the answer lies in the hundred of drugs that now enable people to live to 65 and many, many years beyond — people who would have died long before 65 that's why a generation ago That's why we say...

FAMILIAR FACES: Como facemur, All-American football who captained Princeton's championship team in 1964, and Paul Savidge, leader of the Tiger football team last fall, are on the staff this season as assistant coaches. city to the starting job at shortside guard. The other guard assignment will probably go to a newcomer, 168-lb. John Morio, a senior who played with the Jayvies as a fullback for two seasons. Dick Colman reports that he has played well in the Blairtown sections.

The tackle slots were to be staffed by juniors Bob Hausleiter and Homer Ashby, both good enough to letter as sophomores, but Ashby twisted his knee one morning during calisthenics and the date of his return to contact work is still in doubt. This week, it appeared likely that the starting job may go to Dave Hantz, a 230-lb. sophomore who has come along faster than was anticipated.

At center will be a Lawrenceville resident, 210-lb. Bob Ebert who saw limited service last fall as a sophomore. If he can handle the job there, it will spare senior Carl Rehake for a starting berth as defensive tackle — a development the coaching staff is most hopeful will occur.

Defense Big. Experienced. The front five for the Tigers on defense will stack up with any comparable group the rest of the Ivy League can offer: football at Lane Technical High School in Chicago, The University of Notre Dame, and the University of Michigan.

Seniors John Seifert, 230, and Carl Behnke, 260, will man the tackle posts, while 225-lb. Lee Hitchner is already a standout at middle guard, although only a junior. Behind them there is further ability and experience in junior Craig at some positions, has been at 260, and senior Ron Grossman, 190, a pair of veteran linebackers.

Senior Hayward Gipson, listed as the surest tackler on the squad and possessed of a speed, returns to play after his corner back for another season.

The only non-letterman on this platoon will be Junior Bruce Wayne, who was shelled by a broken ankle in the Columbia game last season. Doug James, a two-year letterman, will pair with Wayne as a defensive halfback, while Marty Eichelberger will give the Tigers power and ability in the vital safety position.

An assortment of leg injuries, mostly knee trouble, has hobbled a large number of players during the first fortnight at Blairtown. Veteran trainer Eddie Zanfrani says he cannot recall a greater incidence of such injuries several of them incurred from action no more strenuous than the calisthenics in which Homer Ashby was taking part.

INJURY IS SERIOUS

Sophomore in Hospital. Douglas Boe, 19-year old sophomore, fullback, was operated on in Princeton Hospital Saturday following a head injury that occurred during an intramural scrimmage at Blairtown.

His condition was listed as serious and he remained in a coma early this week. A University spokesman said that that young Boe had a similar operation while playing of the Ivy League last fall. The University of Michigan, the University of Notre Dame, and the University of Michigan.

Two players counted on as members of the starting line were also sidelined as a result of the scrimmage. The snail's overall depth, markedly thin and experience in junior Craig at some positions, has been at 260, and senior Ron Grossman, 190, a pair of veteran linebackers.

Senior Larry Stupski, veteran end who is scheduled to pair with Captain Walt Kozombo as a regular on the defensive platoon, left Saturday's scrimmage with a shoulder injury. There was a possibility that it might be a separation, but the length of time was would be out of action was listed as indefinite.

Dave Martin, with only two days' experience as a fullback since his conversion from tailback, was on the staff this season as assistant coaches. Savidge is still wearing the corrective brace necessary following the neck fracture he received in the Dartmouth game. (Alan Richards Photo) back when pre-season training began, has an extremely sore rib. He is sitting out the current week in fall, and will miss an opportunity to run with the starting backfield against his first outside opposition. A closed scrimmage against the Quantico Marines will be staged Saturday.

Homeer Ashby's knee injury is responding slowly to treatment and he is a very unlikely starter against Rutgers. There is a possibility he will not be ready until the third game of the season against Dartmouth.

SATURDAY LAST CHANCE
To join Midget Football. Saturday morning from 9 to 11 will mark the final opportunity for boys to sign up for the Midget Football League at the Valley Road School gym. No boys may register after Saturday.

No weight limits have been set and will not be until after Saturday. No matter what a boy weighs, he should sign up and be officially weighed and measured at the gym.

Any boy from 9 to 13 attending school in the township or Township is eligible. Boys 10-13 may join one of the four fully-equipped teams sponsored by Matthews Construction, Nassau - Conover Motors, Princeton Fuel Oil and the Princeton University Store. Nine-year old boys will be eligible this year for football school.

Directed by Jack Petrone and Jack Spioch, the school will be held every Saturday morning during the fall. Evening sessions will be on conditioning, fundamentals and learning of offensive and defensive plays. Informal touch football games will be held to enable the boys to put into practice what they have learned.

KRAFT FAMILY HONORED
By U.S.L.T.A. Eve and Lewis Kraft and their sons, Ken, Steven, and Robert T. Bridgeview Road were honored last week as a "Family of the Year" in America tennis by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

PDS COACHES AND CAPTAINS: From left is head coach Dan Harren, co-captain Sandy Wandell of Princeton, co-captain Bill Riolo of Trenton and assistant coach Lester Tibbels. Wandell, a fullback, and quarterback Riolo are juniors. PDS will open a seven-game Jayvee schedule October 5 when it plays host to Montclair Academy.

On ceremonies at Forest Hills, Kraft received for his family a silver tray presented in recognition of the Krafts' contribution to community tennis.

The Krafts were "a family" for this area, which includes New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, and runner-up for the country as a whole.

Mrs. Kraft is the founder of the Princeton Community Tennis program and her sons are participants in the program, either as instructors or as players. Steve was one of the 16 Community Tennis players to be named last year by the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association.

Both Steve and Ken attended the Forest Hills festivities with their father. Mrs. Kraft stayed home; it was the first day of school and 11-year-old Rob had an academic date to keep.

LAWSON AND MILLER WIN
As Fall Sailing Begins, Jerry Lawson and Dexter Miller won the first series of races staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club as the fall season began Sunday on the lake. Light to moderate winds prevailed. With his wife, Nancy, as crew, Lawson took two races and compiled 25.6 points in the 14-foot sloop class. Wall Gibson was victorious in one race and tallied 24.5 points to finish runner-up. Other totals in this division: George Cody, 17.8; Art Benson, 15.4; Tom Huntington, 15.3; Tom Milton, 11.9; and Bob Wilson, 7.0.

Miller won the Penguin Class racing with Tim Miller as crew, taking two races and

POLICE NAB PROWLER
On Wentworth Road, A 20-year-old escapee from the Middlesex County workhouse was arrested Monday night by Borough police hidden in the bushes on the property of Frank W. Husby, 34, 85 Westcott Road, held in Borough Jail and charged with trespassing. Gerry L. Burnett of Trenton will also be questioned at length about a series of entries that occurred last week in the Borough.
Police were alerted by a call from Mrs. George H. Gallup III, of Mountain View Avenue, Hopewell, who told police she had heard someone walking around the husby yard. Lt. Francis Maguire said that the police received five or six such calls in the last week where the caller reported hearing prowlers.

UNIVERSITY CAGE AUDITORIUM TAKES SHAPE: Although completion is not scheduled until September, 1937, the outline of Princeton University's $5,000,000 Jadwin Cage Auditorium at the open end of Palmer Stadium is easily discernible. It will consist of two long, low wings, the larger of the two being the main auditorium which will house a broad shell. The cage will be used for indoor sports including basketball, track, wrestling, squash and fencing. It will also be used to provide indoor practice areas for baseball, lacrosse, football and soccer.

At the time of the call — 8:35 p.m. — only two police, Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Officer Anthony Rando were on duty. Valetton scheduling and a recent resignation had left the police temporarily short-handed. Lt. Maguire said in a session when the call came and four additional officers were present as complaints in traffic and criminal cases. Sgt. Arthur Gallant and Patrolmen John A. Bellow, Arthur Jackson and Russell Shangle joined Lewis and Rando and surrounded the area. Ptl. Bellow and Jackson apprehended Barnett.

String of Entries. The series of entries in the Borough, about which Lt. Maguire said Barnett would be questioned, began on Thursday with a call that morning from Gerald Bonin, manager of the Food Mart, 20 Witherspoon Street. Police report that a window in a door in an alley was broken in order to reach in and remove a metal bar. Missing was a canvas money bag containing $113.

The investigating officer, Ptl. Bellow, reported that The Gracie Restaurant, located near door and accessible from the same alley, was also a probable target. He said a panel from a side door had been broken but it appeared as if there had been no entry.

In order, as listed on the police card, there were these events: Jeffrey Smyth, 7 Park Place, reported his unlocked parked car ransacked. Apparently nothing was taken.

Ewald Fauning, 68 Wiggin Street, called Thursday night to report finding his front door open and the lights on. He had left the house locked and dark he told police.

Police report a screen was cut in a rear door and a small glass pane broken in a door leading to the kitchen. The method of entry — cut screen, followed by a broken pane of glass to enable the intruder to Want to Sing Opera?

The Princeton Opera Association is looking for singers with good musical and vocal training to participate in the Association's programs. There is no salary, but singers will have the opportunity to learn opera and acting under the direction of the foremost teachers in America, Igor Chelighov is artistic director and Emil Renshaw conducts weekly three-hour workshop sessions for which a charge is made.

reached in and unlock a door — was used in virtually all of the entries and led police to believe they were the work of one person. A heist, vacant at the time, next door to Mr. Fauning's home, was also found to have been entered. Mrs. Florence McGuinness, 27 Vandewater Avenue, called Saturday evening, reporting that she heard a noise in her kitchen. Police found a cut screen and a broken pane but believe the perpetrator was stoff off.

Jewelry Taken. An hour later, Soul Car, 25 Hamilton Avenue, called to report his house had been ransacked. Missing he said, were a trumpet and jewelry valued at more than $200. Police report entry in this case was by way of an unlocked rear door.

Next, some three hours later, John Van Raalte, 81 Harriet Drive, called the police. His home had been ransacked. He said, police said jewelry and some cash with a combined value of "just under $200 dollars" was stolen.

Early last week, in an unrelenting fight, Gay Beninger, Washington Road, Penn Neck, told police that his car, parked in a private yard at 156 Nassau Street, had been broken into. He lost a $50 Peldere camera, a raincoat, brief case, flashlight and hunting knife.

COME IN AND STUDY
Study Center to Open. Stay for as long or as short a time as you wish — that's the invitation extended by the Princeton Study Center to all Princeton students, fifth through 12th grades.

The Center will open on Monday, September 28 at 7 p.m. in the same place: Community Park School. Once again it will offer a study environment from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays, with Thomas Carroll, director and guide.

Youngsters will have, as always at the Center, a quiet place to study, reference books in turn to and what help they need it.

Anyone who would like to volunteer as a Study Center tutor, assistant or receptionist is invited to call Mrs. Thomas Southerland, 924-5258 or Mrs. Robert van de Velde, 921-7090.

Mrs. Rowan Boone is president of the Center. Other officers are: Mrs. Jinx Aldrich, first vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Lotz, second vice-president in charge of the study hall; Mrs. Stanley Plushaw, third vice-president in charge of tutoring; Mrs. Donald George, secretary and John Borden, treasurer.

Board members elected at the annual meeting to fill terms of one year are: Mrs. Herbert Abelson, Angus Adams, Mrs. Sherman Bates, Mrs. Joseph Lane, Mrs. David Brodsky, Mrs. Richard Edwards, Melvin Gottlieb, Mrs. Benjamin Shimbarg, Mrs. Thomas Southerland, Mrs.

Thomas Slix and Mrs. Grayaud Wilmore.

PRINTS AND PAINTS
Art Association to Open. Fall classes at the Princeton Art Association will feature a new course in printmaking and two new artists on the faculty.

Stefan Martin will conduct an evening printmaking course in which students will learn how to make prints of their woodcuts and etchings. The Association plans to install a new press in its 14 Nassau Street studios.

The two new artists on the faculty will be David Chapin and Herbert Steinberg.

Mr. Chapin, who will teach painting, is a graduate of the Cornell School of Architecture and a former student at the Hans Hofmann School of Fine Arts. He has also studied calligraphy with Susanna Haidai. He taught art at Jililios Wesleyan from 1949 to 1952 and opened a New York studio in 1958. In 1964, he won the $1,000 prize in the Fairmount Park Fountain competition in Philadelphia. His works are in many private collections.

Mr. Steinberg will teach basic drawing techniques. A resident of Roosevelt, he studied at the Tower Art School at Temple University and holds degrees from Adelphi College and Kent State University.

Widely known as a scenic designer, Mr. Steinberg created the sets for the Broadway productions of "Camelot," "The Sound of Music," "Mary, Mary," and almost a hundred other productions.

With the Children Back in School...

You'll have more time to read. Right? Princeton readers bought or borrowed these books in brisk trading during the last month:

- FICTION
"Valley of the Dolls," Jacqueline Susann. Lots of controversy around this sexy tale. (Book)
"The Secret of Santa Vittoria," Robert Crichton. Camie novel about Italy in World War I. (Book Mart and Public Library)
"Giles, God-Boy," John Barth. Is Barth a genius or a nut? (University Store)
"Lin McLean," Owen Wister. Sure he wrote something besides "The Virginian." (Witherspoon Art and Book)
NON-FICTION
"Incident at Eveter," John G. Fuller. Got a cup for your flying saucer? (Male's)
"Everything But Money," Sam Levenson. How it was, growing up. (Book Mart)
"Two Under the Indian Sun," Rumer Godden. A quiet perspective. Princeton favorite about girlhood in India. (Public Library)
"I Found No Peace," Webb Miller. An old war-correspondent classic. (Witherspoon Art and Book)
"The Legend of Hober Baker," John Davies. Princeton's great athlete. (University Store)

- RECOMMENDED
"Giles God-Boy," John Barth. (Male's)
"The Legend of Hober Baker," John Davies. (Book Mart)
"The Cold War Swap," Ross Thomas. Well-constructed espionage story. (Public Library)
"The Roman," Mika Waltari. New historical novel. (University Store)

"No, Myron, you were born in Princeton Hospital — Mommy didn't bring you home from a committee meeting."

Robert McVeigh Sr., 88, of Little Street, died on September 12 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was the husband of Mrs. Ida M. McVeigh.

A native of Kingston, Mr. McVeigh lived in Princeton for the past 52 years. He was a blacksmith and a member of Trinity Church.

Also surviving are a son, Robert McVeigh Jr., of Princeton Junction; six grandchildren, one great-grandchild, six sisters, Mrs. Sally McVeigh and Mrs. Eleanor Ruppelt, both of Trenton, Mrs. Helen Gallant of Princeton, Mrs. Mary Sarsman of Lawrenceville and Mrs. Evelyn Lesko of Highland Park; and three brothers, James McVeigh of Princeton, Henry and Donald McVeigh, both of Robbinsville.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer of Trinity Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Majed F. Said, 39, of College Road, died September 7 in Princeton Hospital following a long illness.

Dr. Said was a teacher of Arabic in Princeton University's department of Oriental studies for eight years and also acted as a consultant for several educational institutions and governmental agencies. His written publications included three standard Arabic grammars and articles and book reviews in both English and Arabic.

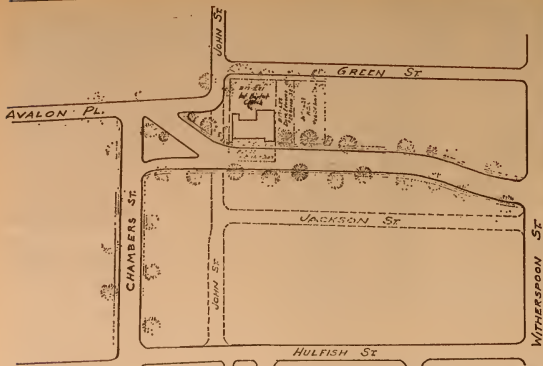

A native of Tybesh, Jordan, he came to this country in 1951 and received his citizenship in 1964. He was educated at Georgetown University where he was awarded a B.S. degree in linguistics magna cum laude, and a master's degree in Arabic.

He gave his Princeton doctoral degree in 1964.

In 1964 he was a consultant to the U.S. Office of Education for a survey of intensive summer programs in "the uncommon languages." He was also a member of the screening committee of the National Undergraduate Program for Overseas Study in Arabic and the Office of Education which selects national defense foreign language fellows.

A frequent participant in radio programs originating in the Middle East, he also broadcast for the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Dr. Said is survived by his widow, the former Mary Weller Dr. Grandpre, by two daughters, Mary Weller, age 12, and Emily Ann, age 3, and his parents who reside in Jordan. A service was held at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church.

Topics Of The Town

One of his most recent projects is the mural in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Art Association also announced this week that Paul Kern of The Hun School, will offer a course in creative painting for school children. His course in painting and various other media, was offered to children this summer in the Association's summer program.

The complete fall class schedule will be announced next week. Registration and membership information may be obtained from Mrs. H. N. Kempton III, 239 Shadybrook Lane, or from the Association at 14 Nassau.

Membership in the PAA is a pre-requisite for enrolling in all classes.

GREENFIELD TO SPEAK

At Meeting of Women Voters. Dr. Richard K. Greenfield, President of the Mercer County Community College, will be the speaker at the annual fall tea of the League of Women Voters to be held next Wednesday, September 21. The meeting will begin at 8:15 p.m. at the Present-Day Club, 72 Stockton Street. The president of the Princeton League is Mrs. Richard I. Bergman, 165 Valley Road. Membership inquiries should be directed to Mrs. David Peponce, 1 Glenview Drive.

OFFICERS ANNOUNCED By Lions Auxiliary. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton Lions Club has elected its officers for the coming year. Sylvia Kopp will act as president, and Lee Neiner will act as vice-president. Loretta Hubbert is secretary and Marie Geisenhaber is treasurer.

The club will hold its regular monthly meeting every second Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Lahiere's Restaurant.

RANKS FORMING

For Girl Scout Troops. Girl Scout troops on the Browline, Junior, Cadette and Senior levels are now being formed in Princeton. A pre-arranged meeting for girls of the Cadette level, grades 7-9, will be held at a date to be announced and those girls who have expressed a desire to join troops will be invited.

Any girls interested in becoming Girl Scouts should contact Mrs. John Robert Westover, 921-2484. Adults who would like to volunteer for leader-

HERE'S JACKSON STREET: Preliminary clearing began this week and road construction is scheduled to begin next Monday for the re-alignment of Jackson Street (above). The 68 Chambers Street house that formerly belonged to Mrs. Arthur H. Mitchell was demolished to make way for the new road. Contractor for the first phase of road construction will be Louis Simoney, low among the five bidders with $38,150. Cashlow & Co., with a bid of $48,800, was the house-raising contract. The traffic signal at Witherspoon-Jackson-Virginia will be provided by Jascella Electrical Co. for $5,000.

They are also urged to call York during the 1930's and subsequently as director of volunteer services of the New York United Hospital Fund.

ALUMNAE PLAN MEETING For Goucher Students. New freshmen and returning Goucher students are invited to attend a pre-arranged meeting at 2:30 this Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Miller, 353 Nassau. Mrs. Miller is president of the Princeton Goucher Club.

Entering Goucher this month as freshmen are Nancy MacRae, Kingston and Vicki Sklar, Highland Park. Princeton girls returning to Goucher are Margarita Coyle, 11 University Place; Elizabeth Aull, North Road; Sally Campbell, Batt Road, and Diane Vener, Witherspoon Street.

Officers of the Goucher Club are Mrs. Miller, president; Mrs. Edward Matthews, 45 Montclair Circle, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Westover, 921-2484, treasurer. Mrs. Miller attended a three-day conference on the Baltimore campus this month as a representative of the club.

DO IT YOURSELF!

.. IT'S EASY TO WOOD PANEL ANY ROOM WITH

PRE-FINISHED PLANKWELD

Ready-to-Install WELDWOOD PLYWOOD

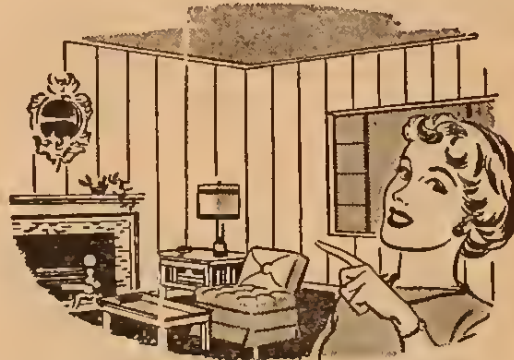

1 Start paneling in corner. Nail down edge of first panel at corner end.

2 Insert metal clips in the other edge groove. Nail clips to wall or stud.

3 Slip grooved edge of next panel into groove of first. Clips and nails are hidden.

Here is a beautiful wood paneling you can install yourself. Even if you aren't handy, you can panel a whole room in a few hours. And do a fine job, too.

Plankweld is Weldwood Plywood paneling. Faces are already finished — no painting or staining is needed. Panel edges are grooved to fit into each other; fastening is done with clips so nails do not show.

You can put Plankweld right over old walls — no furring or framing is needed. That's why Plankweld is such a wonderful material for remodeling. It's fine for new houses too. The panels are fastened directly to the studs.

By doing the job yourself you can panel any room you want to, and the whole cost will be the modest price of Plankweld alone.

And — here's something you'll be glad to know — Plankweld is guaranteed for the life of your house. No more repairs!

Come in to see Plankweld. We have it in fine hardwoods. See how easy it is — and how inexpensive — to wood panel any room in your house.

Plankweld is ¼" thick, in easy-to-handle panels 16¼" wide by 8 feet long.

WOULDS'T WOODS? or inviting little groups for the children to play in just across the lawn from an airy screened porch where you can supervise their activities in comfort? Those are but two of the delights of this new-on-the-market Township Colonial. Its practical thoroughness includes hall, bath, modern living room with fireplace, separate dining room, paneled family room, and equipped kitchen are a few more. 4 career bedrooms, 2½ baths. Cellar, two car garage, stairs and screens. Just repainted. Beautiful lot in a most desirable young neighborhood. Offered for the first time. $52,000

HOUSEHUNTING BECOMES ELECTRIC: when, after days of looking you suddenly walk into the right house and realize "This is it!" Does your temperature rise at the prospect of an admirably built 5 bedroom, 3½ bath house on two wooded acres just off the Rosedale Rd. in Princeton's Western Section? Would it quicken your pulse to know that the living room and dining room with adjoining screened porch are beautifully arranged for elegant entertaining, that the kitchen is fully equipped and that there is a well-insulated fireplace for the children? Does the mention of plaster walls, a finished two car garage, aluminum storm windows and screens, a new paint job, a dry cellar, central air-conditioning and meticulous maintenance do anything to you? —? Call us, maybe when you walk in the door, it'll hit you. $57,500

LOOKING FOR THAT FIRST HOUSE? We think this pretty one story on its tree-filled Township half acre would be just the thing for a small family like yours. Lovely living-dining room, well-equipped kitchen with new dishwasher and counter tops, study or playroom, 3 bedrooms and bath. Full basement, breezeway and two car garage. $33,500

CHERRY VALLEY RD. — 2.8 ACRE BUILDING SITE: A wide lot amid estate surroundings. Perfect for a formal home. Trees. Buy it now and build right away, or hold it for investment. Offered for the first time. $12,500

A LOT OF HOUSE FOR NO MONEY: You can't exactly give away this solid Georgian brick in the Western Section, but due to the owner's willingness to arrange financing, very little cash is required. Large living room and paneled family room each have fireplaces, formal dining room, woodier, fully equipped kitchen with miles of cabinets, ground floor bedroom and full bath could double as study. 4 bedrooms and 3 baths on the second floor. Cellar, two car garage. We don't think you can beat this deal in Princeton at $55,500. See us exclusively

AN IMPOSTER: This handsome two story house with its covered portico is really a ranch house in disguise. All on one floor you'll find living and dining rooms, sunny kitchen, 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. On a lower level a big paneled playroom with fireplace, laundry, bedroom and laundry could make a separate apartment. $47,500 Princeton Borough.

ARE YOU PAYING MORE ... and enjoying it less

Well, look here. You wouldn't go through life paying 45 cents for just a loaf of bread if you could buy that same loaf of bread for five miles away for 25 cents, would you? We offer you a choice home in the select area of Trenton. If you tried to buy it in the Princeton area you might have to go a third or more higher. It is a first-class level with well-to-do pleasure... it has, among other things:

Wall furnace and refrigerator
Wall to wall carpeting throughout the house
Wall-to-wall of most modern design and use Luxurious marble in kitchen
Wetbar, drybar, hand-dryer,
...

... And a double berth sofa on a superb patio, living room, dining room, stone fireplace, aluminum storm windows and screens, 1-car garage, and an end on end on... Call for a look.

BUDGET SUMMARY—MERCER COUNTY 1965-66

Budget-making is a year-round activity of Mercer County government. A well-organized, well-directed budget policy saves costs and promotes efficiency just as effectively for a county agency as for industry. Good budget-making is far-reaching in its results. Following is a summary of anticipated revenues and appropriations for 1966, compared to 1965. More detailed information will be found in the 1966 County Manual — available upon request:

Mercer County

A message to the residents of Mercer County

Your county—Mercer—has earned the position of "New Jersey's Number One County" through major achievements in such fields as education and government, industry and research, parks and recreation, cultural opportunities, and imaginative, solid planning for continued future progress and the welfare of its people.

Mercer County is rich in historical lore, with Trenton and Princeton having played crucial roles in the birth of this nation. Mercer County is the seat of State and County Government—and it is headquarters for major industrial companies, religious denominations, and business and professional organizations. Mercer County is also an important producer of agricultural products. Growth of industrial, commercial and residential property has increased taxable property by 26 percent during the past five years. For more than three and one-half years Mercer County's unemployment has been lowest of New Jersey's major labor markets—and well below the State average.

These achievements are credited to the inspiration, devotion and work of the entire community—to religious, educational and philanthropic leaders—to business management and labor organizations—to government at all levels—to an alert, progressive press and radio.

The Mercer County Board of Chosen Freeholders believes firmly that competent County Government can contribute in a significant way to the community's continued progress and prosperity—through sound management of every departmental function, through prudent expenditure policies, through careful attention to the needs of the citizens, and through initiation, encouragement, and support of programs which advance community interest. Mercer County's position as New Jersey's Number One County will not be retained easily. Sound planning and energetic, informed action are vital to an even greater era of future progress.

This Second Annual Report to the citizens of Mercer County is published to provide a better understanding of the expenditures of your county government—and how your county tax dollars are translated into county operations and services. It emphasizes the tremendous amount of talent, energy and devotion supplied by the boards, commissions and councils of Mercer County Government, whose members are representative of all parts of the County—of business, professions, labor, and civic endeavors. The contributions of citizen leaders—in teamwork with county officials and staff are essential to the sound operation of county government, and to fulfillment of Mercer County's eminent standing as New Jersey's Number One County.

All county citizens are urged to take an active interest in County government—to attend public meetings, to ask questions about county affairs, and to make suggestions for improved operations.

DONNELLY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Board of Managers

Members, left to right, are: seated, Freeholder Frank J. Black; Mrs. Paul T. Williams; Raymond A. Dougherty, Director, Welfare Board; standing, William M. Gerhauser; Richard G. Macgill; Anthony V. Denito; and Dr. Edward P. Chappen. Absent when photograph was taken: Dr. C. Walter Carroll, County Physician; and John H. Kozlowski.

Established in 1914, Donnelly Memorial Hospital was operated by the City of Trenton until the first of this year, when ownership and operation was formally transferred to Mercer County. It is a complex of buildings on Klockner Road and Hamilton Avenue, Hamilton Township, with a total capacity of 230 beds. As a county institution, it is operated for disabled or aged persons, primarily those who are indigent patients, most of whom are admitted through the Mercer County Welfare Board. The Board of Managers, made up of the County

Physician, Director of the County Welfare Board, a member of the Board of Freeholders and six additional members, is responsible for the general direction, management and control of the hospital, its staff, and policies, rules and regulations under which it is operated. In view of the magnitude and complex character of this new county agency, the Board of Freeholders has directed intensive studies of all phases of the hospital's operation to provide a firm factual basis for efficient and effective management of this newly acquired county institution.

BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Voting is a priceless asset. It is the principal instrument through which the citizens exercise self-government — through selection of the people who represent them at all levels of government. The Board of Elections supervises the registration of voters and the conduct of all elections within the county. It selects the polling places, names election officials, and oversees any recount. The Secretary is the official head of the Election

Board staff operations. It is composed of four members — two from each political party. The Mercer Board has won nation-wide attention for initiation and success with the mobile registration program, pioneered in Mercer. It is engaged in a continuing "voter protection service," to help citizens maintain their voting rights. A voter who changes his address within the county is informed promptly by letter of what to do to keep his right to vote in the next election.

BOARD OF TAXATION

The Mercer County Board of Taxation serves a key role in the administration of property tax assessments in Mercer County's thirteen municipalities. It establishes the percentage level of taxable value of real property which applies uniformly throughout the county; prepares an annual equalization table applicable to each municipality; hears appeals from municipalities in regard to the equalization table; hears appeals from property owners in regard to assessments; maintains a file of the assessment list of each municipality; publishes an annual Abstract of Rates; acts as a source of information and guidance to local assessors; and in general seeks to assure uniform, equitable assessment policies and administration throughout the county.

SHADE TREE COMMISSION

Shade trees are a tremendous asset to a community. If varieties are well-chosen and well-placed they add beauty and grace. If not, they can be costly and even injurious. The Shade Tree Commission controls and supervises removal of trees that are dead, diseased, or must be removed for other reasons, to prevent indiscriminate removal, or unnecessary trimming harmful to a tree. It also controls placement where there will not be interference with utilities and where they will not create a problem to future road-widening. The Commission also recommends trees such as Norway Maples and Pin Oaks, rather than those whose root systems obstruct and clog sewers and road drains. In addition the Commission directs policing and removal of advertising material on shade trees within public rights-of-way, in the interest of roadside beauty.

MOSQUITO EXTERMINATION COMMISSION

Mosquitos are not only a nuisance that interrupt sleep and spoil picnics—they are carriers of such dread diseases as malaria and Eastern viral Encephalitis. With the assistance of the State Health Commissioner and the State Experiment Station, and in cooperation with neighboring counties, the Mosquito Extermination Commission wages a relentless war against mosquitos, clearing out breeding areas and spraying adult insects with chemicals and other modern, effective means.

CIVIL DEFENSE AND DISASTER CONTROL

Staff shown above are, left to right: seated, Rev. J. Stanley Wagg, Religious Coordinator (Protestant); B. Ord Houston, Industrial Coordinator; Lt. Col. George H. Kitchen, Military Liaison Officer; William H. Falcey, County Coordinator; James L. Solan, Jr., Deputy County Coordinator; Rev. Joseph W. McLaughlin, Religious Coordinator (Catholic); John N. Nagy, Shelter Coordinator; second row, A. G. Wentzel, Jr., Radio Officer; Elmer C. Bleakoe, Rescue Coordinator; Mrs. Dorothy K. Rowe, Manpower Coordinator; Mrs. Dorothy E. Drew, County Office Staff; Mrs. Selma A. Waterson, Training Coordinator; Dr. Edward J. Jennings, Dental Liaison Officer, Medical Service; Dr. J. S. Klausner, Podiatrist Liaison Officer, Medical Service; third row, Fred W. Keeler, Transportation Coordinator; Richard W. Lippincott, Agricultural Coordinator; James T. Currie, Deputy Rescue Coordinator; Fred L. Orcutt, Jr., Radiological Coordinator; John P. McManimon, Communications Coordinator; John T. Dempster, Sr., Fire Coordinator; fourth row, Robert P. Mooney, Deputy Radiological Coordinator; Willis O. Klotzbach, Engineering Coordinator; John B. Power, Deputy Communications Coordinator; John F. Marshall, M.D., Medical Coordinator; W. D. Phillips, Utility Liaison Officer; Herbert Young, Deputy Welfare Coordinator. Absent when photograph was taken: Hon. Vincent Pannaro, Legal Advisor; Sheriff Joseph S. Holland, Police Coordinator; Rabbi Howard Hersch, Religious Coordinator (Jewish); Raymond A. Dougherty, Welfare Coordinator; and Mrs. Kay Bergen, Acting Administrative Officer.

Through the CD-DC, Mercer County is effectively organized to protect life and property in the event of major disaster—whether natural or man-made. The County organization is based on the existing services of the county government. Its function is to assist the municipalities to aid each other by coordinating the resources of the municipalities to insure their optimum use.

As will be noted from the staff membership, the Mercer County organization is broadly based — tied into each of the county's municipalities and to virtually all facets of the community. The county control center at Mercer County Airport is linked to the municipal centers, providing speedy communications in time of emergency.

LOCATION OF MERCER COUNTY FACILITIES

Administrative - Operational - Recreational - Educational - Institutional

While the heart and administrative center of Mercer County Government is at the Court House and offices at Broad and Market Streets, Trenton—county facilities are spread throughout the 226 square miles of Mercer County. Included are the Airport, hospital, chest clinic, highway garage, public golf courses, libraries, workhouse and farm, major parks, and a growing number of recreation and “open space” facilities. The site for the new Community College is presently under consideration by the Board of Trustees of the college. Added to these are a total of 172 miles of county highways and 684 bridges and culverts. Population continues to grow, and as urbanization reaches out into former rural areas, county government becomes increasingly important to the lives and well-being of the citizens. County facilities and programs will be expanded prudently and with foresight, to keep pace with the needs and requirements of the citizens.

WELFARE BOARD

Welfare payments cover a number of major programs, ranging from dependent children to the aged. The Welfare Board is responsible for direction of these programs within the limits set by law and regulation. The aim is to make certain that clients receive what they are entitled to legally. Since conditions of an individual may change, the board must make sure that not only the original application is investigated carefully, but that re-investigation and verification are made at the required time. Working jointly with the State Bureau of Assistance, the Welfare Board is responsible for developing and improving the programs, and in planning for appropriate policies and procedures.

MENTAL HEALTH BOARD

Whether viewed from the standpoint of the general well-being of the community, or of the costs of maintaining patients and the loss of productivity to society, mental health is a matter of crucial importance. Within recent years there have been notable breakthroughs—in the knowledge of how to preserve and foster mental health, and in the techniques for treating and caring for mental patients. The Mental Health Board is concerned with programs to bring maximum returns to the community, and to the individual, from these gains, as well as to support efforts for continued progress.

Mercer County is growing and changing rapidly, with growth of industry, commerce and homes, shifts in population, and the impact of major construction of highways, waterfront development and airport expansion. The Planning Board and its staff have a key role in guiding this growth to assure sound growth that will benefit the county's residents. Principal activities include: planning service for all Mercer County municipalities, including both preparation and implementation of master plans and subsidiary plans; preparation and implementation of the county master plan; updating of the highway master plan for Mercer County; countywide leadership in matters related to proposed state highway facilities; review of major subdivisions and site plans for any traffic-generating uses; and close cooperation with other county agencies such as the Park Commission, Airport, Mosquito Extermination Commission, Economic Development Commission, Engineering, Highways and Bridges and Culverts.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Members of the Executive Committee, left to right, are: seated, Ronald T. King, Area Development Representative, Public Service Electric and Gas Co.; Freeholder Frank J. Black, Commission Director, and Louis Persico, First Vice President, Mercer County Labor Union Council, AFL-CIO; standing, Roy E. Johnson, President, Mercer County Building Trades; Carl J. Pershelli, President, Trenton-Mercer County Board of Realtors, and John J. Horgan Jr., Past President, Mercer County Bankers Association.

Members of the full commission, in addition to the Executive Committee are: Freeholders Richard J. Coffee, Charles Kovacs, Thomas F. Rhodes, Sr., George J. Sutch, and Arthur R. Sypek, Mayors Carmen J. Armenti, Trenton; John A. Selecky, East Windsor; F. Kirby Blackford, Ewing; Raymond I. Dwier, Hamilton; Jerome L. Becker, Jr., Hightstown; Joseph B. Hill, 2nd, Hopewell Borough; Theodore A. Pierson, III, Hopewell Township; Joseph M. Mahan, Lawrence; Loar L. Quickle, Pennington; Henry S. Patterson, II, Princeton Borough; Carl C. Schafer, Princeton Township; Joseph Ciaccio, Washington; and Malcolm B. Roszel, West Windsor. Ted Dean, President, Home Builders Association of Delaware Valley; Leonard C. Frost, President, Master Builders Exchange of Trenton; J. C. Murray, Jr., President, Greater Trenton Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Karl G. Pearson, Dean, School of Business Administration, Rider College; Dr. John P. Pritchett, President, Trenton Junior College; and Mrs. Dorothy K. Rowe, Manager, Trenton Local Placement Office, N. J. State Employment Service.

The Economic Development Commission is engaged in a continuing program to foster Mercer County's economic growth, through the attraction of new companies into the area and through the expansion of existing enterprises. Working cooperatively with all other agencies concerned with Mercer County's business development the Commission; conducts research . . . carries out promotional and publicity programs . . . maintains a file of available industrial sites and buildings . . . and acts as a clearing house and information center for real estate brokers, utilities, railroads, business organizations, banks, management consultants, public officials and others who are helping new firms to study Mercer County as a site for their operations.

PARK COMMISSION

A nine-member, bi-partisan body of public-spirited citizens with a genuine interest in recreation for county residents, the Park Commission has made tremendous progress since its formation in 1963. It has acquired a second 18-hole golf course, is building a 6-court indoor tennis center, co-sponsors a Junior Symphonic Training orchestra, and has initiated the largest, most comprehensive open space and park land acquisition program of any county in New Jersey. The County's largest park will be the 3,000-acre Assumpink Park, with ten lakes, the largest

200 acres in area. Stony Brook Park, in Hopewell Township, approximately 500 acres, has been approved and will be built. Both large parks will afford opportunity for conservation, park development and flood control. Approval has also been granted for a 47-acre expansion of Herrontown Woods Arboretum in Princeton Township, and for purchase of land to allow for an additional entrance into the John A. Roebling Memorial Park in Hamilton Township. (See center spread for location of Mercer County park and recreation facilities.)

Parks and Recreation Advisory Council

Representing all municipalities in Mercer County, the Advisory Board's function is to develop close working relationships among all community groups concerned with park and recreation programs.

Its members are: Edward Silverglade, Director, Department of Health, Recreation and Welfare, Trenton; Mayor John A. Selecky, East Windsor; Committeewoman Mrs. Ann Banchoff, Ewing; Mayor Raymond I. Dwier, Hamilton; Mayor Jerome L. Becker, Jr., Hightstown; Councilman James G. Boughner, Hopewell Borough; Mayor Theodore A. Pierson, III, Hopewell Township; Mayor Joseph M. Mahan, Lawrence; Mayor Loar L. Quickle, Pennington; Mayor Henry S. Patterson, II, Princeton Borough; R. Donald Barr, Princeton Township; Mayor Joseph Ciaaccio, Washington; Mayor Malcolm B. Roszel, West Windsor; and Richard Morley.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Board of Trustees

When the new Mercer County Community College is built and operating, it will provide hundreds of Mercer County residents annually with an urgently-needed opportunity for advanced education. Courses will provide for two years of training beyond high school, either as college credits which may be transferred toward a four-year degree, or as terminal courses. Curricula will include both liberal arts and sciences, and technical institute type programs. Operating under state law, and rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, the Board of Trustees has authority to appoint the college president, to select the site for the college, to acquire and operate the college buildings and facilities, to appoint the faculty, administrative and other staff, to determine the curriculum and program, to grant diplomas, certificates or degrees, and in general to establish the rules and regulations for operating and administering the college. The annual budget for the college is determined by the Board of School Estimate, comprised of two members of the Board of Trustees, the Director of the Board of Freeholders, and two additional Freeholders.

LIBRARY COMMISSION

Mercer County Library is a free public library, serving the municipalities within the county which do not have municipal free public libraries, and financed by a county library tax paid by those municipalities. The Commission appoints the librarian and other staff, and provides for the necessary supplies and equipment, within the funds available through the library tax. The main library and Ewing Branch are in Suburban Square Plaza, and there are branches in Lawrence and West Windsor Townships. A traveling Library Bookmobile makes regularly scheduled visits to participating municipalities in all parts of the County, offering a wide selection of volumes for readers of all ages.

Members, left to right, are: seated, Crawford Jamieson; John E. Curry, President; James Kerney, Jr., Vice President; second row, Joseph R. Grueter; Freeholder Richard J. Coffey; third row, Martin J. Hillman; Frank A. Bogdan, Secretary; and David J. Schroth. Absent when photograph was taken: Ferdinand Roehling, III.

The Trenton and Mercer County War Memorial is a joint undertaking of the City of Trenton and County of Mercer, authorized by a law passed in 1928. Of its original cost of one million dollars, $365,000 was raised by public subscription and the balance by the City, County and State. The building contains a modern theatre seating 1,926, a ballroom seating 700, and a large meeting room. It has been a major incentive toward cultural development and music appreciation, with concerts of the Trenton Symphony, the Trenton Opera Association, Mercer County Community Concerts, and an array of ballet, theatre and concert attractions. Five veterans organizations maintain permanent offices in the building.

County Government Plays a Major Role in Community Life

In many ways County Government has an intimate and direct influence upon the well-being of the citizens. It is a link between State government and the people in major programs including the courts, crime detection and prosecution, welfare, promotion of business expansion, health programs, tax assessing, education, and institutional care.

To a growing extent county government is a coordinating agency for municipalities within the county in such fields as planning, economic development, recreation and parks, apprehension of criminals, highways, and welfare.

Some of the key functions of Mercer County Government are explained briefly below:

Courts

Mercer County courts have a key role in New Jersey's judicial structure. Seated at the Court House are the Superior Court Judge, two County General Court Judges, Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court Judge, and the County District Court. Two county agencies perform indispensable services for the courts: the Sheriff's office, in providing court attendants, service of legal papers, and transportation of prisoners, and the Probation office, in investigating the background of convicted persons and following up probation orders.

Crime Detection and Prosecution

The Prosecutor's office represents the "State," or the interests of the general public, in the indictment and trial of criminal cases. Local police supply the prosecutor with information concerning each case, and this is investigated by the County Detective staff.

County Clerk

A wealth of vital information is maintained at the County Clerk's office—records of properties and records and legal papers of the courts. In addition the office prepares election ballots and oversees certain phases of primary and general elections.

Surrogate

The Surrogate's office is concerned with the proper administration of the estates of deceased citizens—testing the validity of wills presented for probate, administering property of testators and minor children, under court orders, and acting as clerk of the county court in probate and adoption cases.

Weights and Measures

The Superintendent of Weights and Measures is responsible for enforcement of accurate weighing and measuring devices and packaged goods, as well as practices to safeguard the consumer at the market-place.

Roads and Bridges

Mercer County's highways and bridges are a vital link between state and municipal roads, providing access to employment, shopping centers, school, church, recreation centers, and travel outside the area. The Highway Department supervises the county's 172 miles of roadways. The Department of Bridges and Culverts has supervision over 684 structures, including 269 bridges and 415 culverts.

Airport

Starting from scratch in 1952, Mercer County Airport has been developed into a modern, major air terminal, with extended runways, superbly designed control tower, all-weather instrument landing system, and full facilities for servicing aircraft. A rapidly growing volume of traffic includes commercial airline flights, executive and industrial planes, military aircraft, flying clubs, training flights, and air freight service. It has become an indispensable service to local industry and commerce, has brought many new business firms into the area, and provides a location for major future industrial growth.

Institution

Among Mercer facilities are the County Jail, housing inmates awaiting trial; the Workhouse, Farm and Quarry on River Road, admitting inmates sentenced for terms up to 18 months; and the Youth House, handling children whose cases are pending before Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court, as well as shelter cases. Mental patients are housed in state institutions, with the county paying approximately one-half the cost. The County Adjuster plays an important part in offsetting this cost by collecting a just share from families able to pay.

Clinic

The Chest Clinic at 1100 S. Broad St., Trenton, is the center of the county's continuing war against the spread of tuberculosis. Services include free chest X-rays, home visits to chest patients, educational and prevention programs, and a complete registry of all known cases of TB in the county.

Education

The County Superintendent of Schools, acting as a liaison between the State Department of Education and the local school districts, assists with virtually all aspects of public education—curriculum, professional staffing, school buildings, analysis of school programs, and community relations.

Extension Services

The Extension Service Building on Spruce Street is the center of informational services to farmers and householders. The County Agricultural Agent provides information on farm production and marketing methods, and on lawns, shrubbery and gardens. The County Home Economist, aided by volunteer workers, helps women to become more efficient homemakers. The 4-H program helps young people in many constructive projects.

Internal Staff Functions

Like private business, county government improves its efficiency and gets more for tax dollars through the help of experts in a number of special fields. The Finance Department operates budget controls, has custody of county funds, disburses money for salaries and other expenses, and keeps financial records. The Purchasing Agent provides for central purchasing of goods, continuing attention to markets and products, and expert supervision of all aspects of buying. The County Engineer provides informed and competent guidance to the design, construction and maintenance of the county's expensive capital improvements—roads, bridges, buildings and facilities. The Personnel Director works for high standards of personnel administration, and uniform policies and practices in regard to recruitment, job descriptions, salaries and wages, and employee benefits and services. The Superintendent of Public Works and Buildings is responsible for the complete work of maintaining county buildings.

MERCER COUNTY BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

Management and control of Mercer County government affairs is vested in the seven-member Board of Freeholders, elected at large from the county. Each year county voters elect two members (and every third year three) to serve for three year terms. The Board acts as a legislative body on such matters as appointment of key officials; drafting and adoption of the annual county budget; drafting and adopting of the annual bond issue and capital expenditure program; rejection or acceptance of purchasing bids; review and action on expenditure vouchers; establishment of policy on salaries, personnel administration and purchases; acquisition, transfer or sale of county property; and discussion and action on a wide variety of matters of concern to the county and its residents.

Each member of the Board of Freeholders is designated as Chairman of one of the following departments: Bridges and Culverts; Engineering; Highways; Revenue and Finance; Public Affairs; Public Works and Buildings; and Courts and Charities. In addition individual members of the Board serve on various boards and commissions of the county government, and carry out other duties assigned by the Board.
